Crashes Claim 637; Ohio Lists 30 Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents across the nation during the extended Labor Day weekend took 637 lives, the largest number of traffic fatalities ever recorded for that holiday period.

The figure compared with 518 vehicle deaths in a recent non-holiday weekend of similar length.

The previous record traffic death toll for a Labor Day observance—always a three-day period—was 636, set in 1966. Last year the toll for the holiday was 606.

The number of motorists and pedestrians killed during the weekend observance was more than 10 times the number of American servicemen killed in combat in Vietnam during the same period.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 575 to 675 persons might die in traffic in the weekend which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

The Associated Press, for comparison purposes, surveyed traffic deaths during the non-holiday weekend starting Aug. 16 and tallied 518.

The worst single accident of this holiday period killed eight North Dakota teenagers Sunday in a two-car crash on Interstate 94 west of Jamestown, N.D. They were returning home from a party.

Five persons were killed and eight others were injured Monday night in Union County, Ark., in two traffic accidents that occurred 45 seconds apart.

The lowest death count for a Labor Day weekend since World War II was 246 in 1946.

The deadliest holiday on traffic records was the four-day Fourth of July celebration in 1967 when 732 persons were killed.

In other accidental holiday deaths, 42 persons drowned and 24 died in boating accidents.

At least 30 people died on Ohio roads over the holiday weekend. Experts had predicted 32 deaths.

The count over the Labor Day weekend last year was 24.

Dump Closing Deadline Oct. 1

Judge, County Solons Discuss Landfill Progress

Judge William Ammer met with commissioners today to ask what action they were taking toward establishing a sanitary landfill in Pickaway County.

He reminded commissioners Wayne Hines, Charles Morris and Lloyd Melvin that Oct. 1, the deadline he set to close the Mets-Bowers dump along the Scioto River and the deadline for William Barthelmas to comply with state regulations governing the operation of a landfill was fast approaching.

Commission chairman Wayne Hines told the judge that the county was no further ahead in establishing the landfill than they were when the judge issued the order.

"I think we must move ahead," Hines said. "We've employed Ray Sifford to check some spots for us. The site has to be somewhere near centrally located."

BEFORE the judge came to the commissioners meeting,

Charles Morris had brought up the subject of the dump. Morris told his fellow solons that they should "meet every day until we find a site."

Judge Ammer pointed out that commissioners could locate the dump wherever they could find a suitable spot while private individuals were governed by zoning regulations.

"I can't just close up these dumps if there is no place to go," the judge emphasized. He indicated that if no action were taken by commissioners by the deadline, he would have to extend the deadline for closing the two dumps in question.

Commissioners today received a request from Thomas W.

Roundtown

THERE seems to be a lack of communications between the executive secretary of the child welfare department and commissioners. A $2,000 lack of communications. Commissioners had placed the county owned farms at the Children's Home and the old infirmary on the federal feed-grain program. Payments they were to receive were over $2,000.

Unknown to them, Ralph Starkey, CWB executive secretary, had planted corn on both farms. One was a small patch of ornamental corn. The other a patch of field corn to feed the six Ponies and a horse which are at the Children's Home.

Because of these two small patches of corn, the commissioners cannot receive any payment from the government for non-planting of grain. Starkey said he did not realize that the commissioners had placed the farms in the feed grain program. Commission Chairman Wayne Hines said he believed they might be able to mow the corn without harvesting it and become eligible for the payment again.

PICKAWAY County highways were comparatively accident-free over the long holiday weekend. The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated four. No one was injured. The Highway patrol reported several minor accidents, but no injuries.

TWO Pickaway County dairymen have brought a unique honor home. Reuben Jones, Route 4, a Holstein dairymen, and Wayne Hines, an Ayrshire man, both won the Ohio State fair in their respective breeds at the Ohio State Fair.

Local dairymen believe this is the first year a futurity winner has come from the county. It is also believed to be the first time two futurity winners have come from the same county. Commissioner Charles Morris placed a resolution before the board congratulating the two dairymen for their accomplishments. Hines is chairman of the board of commissioners.

LBJ To Meet With Advisers In Washington

President Ends Month of Rest At Texas Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, ending a long stay at the ranch, heads back to Washington this week with a review of the East European situation apparently the No. 1 item of business.

Johnson has called a meeting of the National Security Council for 5 p.m. Wednesday, mainly to discuss the continuing Czechoslovakian situation and the reported buildup of Soviet troops along the borders of Romania.

Exactly when Johnson would depart for Washington was not known.

The President has called a Cabinet meeting for Thursday at 11 a.m.

Johnson last met with both the security council and the Cabinet when he spent three days in the capital during the height of the crisis triggered by the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Since then he has kept in touch with the situation through telephone conversations with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, security aide Walt W. Rostow and others back in Washington.

It was during such consultations by phone that Johnson learned last Friday of rumors that Soviet troops were massing along Romanian borders, possibly intending to invade that satellite nation which has pursued an independent foreign policy. "Let no nation unleash the dogs of war," Johnson warned in a hastily prepared add to a speech before some dairymen at San Antonio.

Administration sources since have reported receiving Soviet denial of invasion rumors.

Except for a speech in Detroit from which he flew on to Washington for the brief mid-August stay, Johnson has spent most of the month in Texas. He left town after Congress adjourned for the political conventions. Congress returns Wednesday. He spent a quiet Labor Day weekend at his ranch, signing some official papers, keeping up with his business reading, and going on a boating outing and picnic on Lake Lyndon B. Johnson north of the ranch.

Sato Plans Visit To United States

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said Monday he plans to visit the United States next year to discuss the return of Okinawa with the new U.S. president.

Officials said no date has been set for the trip. It would be the third visit to the United States by Sato since he became prime minister in 1964. He visited the United States in 1964 and 1967.

Sato and President Johnson agreed at last year's visit to establish a special committee to study the eventual return of Okinawa to Japan. The United States has administered the former Japanese island since the end of World War II.

Hiram Fong Jr. To Seek Office

HONOLULU (AP) — Hiram L. Fong Jr., eldest son of Hawaii's senior U.S. senator, says he'll run for a seat in the state House of Representatives.

The younger Fong, 28, a Republican like his father, recently returned from Vietnam where he served as an Army captain.

Fong is basing his candidacy on "youth and a fresh approach to the problems of local government."

Violence in Berkeley Called Civil Disaster

School Begins For 3,393 City Students

Total enrollment for the 1968-69 school year in the Circleville City schools is 3,393 pupils. This includes the estimated kindergarten enrollment of 290 students, according to the office of superintendent, Fritz Jacobs.

Figures for the six elementary schools show 341 registered at Mound St.; 189, Nicholas Dr.; High Street, 167; Corwin St., 97; S. Court, 398; and Atwater with the largest elementary student body of 472.

Junior High enrollment for the present school year numbers 810 and 629 for Circleville high school.

On September 5, 1967, total enrollment in the city schools was 3,280 students, including kindergarten. Present figures show an increase of 110 pupils, with the kindergarten enrollment an estimated figure.

Pre-school classes will be in session Wednesday morning.

See Famines, Starvation By 1985

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A biologist from Johns Hopkins University cited evolution, the population explosion and precedents from nature today in predicting world wide famines and millions of dead from starvation by 1985.

Dr. William D. McElroy made the prediction in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Institute of Biological Sciences meeting at Ohio State University.

McElroy, chairman of the Johns Hopkins biology department, said next to the search for peace, the population explosion is the world's greatest problem.

"Some feel that the battle to feed the world population is now lost," said McElroy, "and that it is a foregone conclusion that by 1985 we will have world-wide famines in which hundreds of millions of people will starve to death."

"I must admit that I see no major crash program presently existing which would lead me to disagree with this conclusion," he added.

Among immediate steps the Baltimore scientist proposed were: Establishment of world wide family planning and birth control institutions; alteration of U.S. farm policy for hungry nations to maximum production, and supplementing land-based agriculture by development of underwater farming technology.

Tactical Squad Moving to Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol's north zone tactical squad will move to Akron Thursday from Lorain, where it has been located for the past year.

The squad includes four patrolmen who concentrate on the enforcement of traffic laws in an effort to hold down the accident rate.

Quakes in Iran Fatal to 11,000 During Weekend

KAKHK, Iran (AP) — Wrapped in bloodstained clothing, the dazed survivors of this shattered village wander aimlessly through the rubble.

At least 6,000 of the 7,000 people of this once prosperous village are dead or missing following the earthquake Saturday that devastated some 750 square miles in northeastern Iran. Officials estimate the death toll at about 11,000.

In Kakhk, little remains of the attractive little township that once had two broad tree-lined streets with a pool at the crossroads and a mosque overlooking it.

Only the mosque still stands, and it is cracked and could collapse at any moment.

Most of the children are gone, buried in the debris where their homes stood.

Swollen bodies, arms and hands sticking out of the rubble, an occasional child crying for its family—these are left.

Only 3,500 bodies have been recovered, and the search for the missing continues. The feeling among the survivors is one of hopelessness.

The Shah and Empress Farah are to tour the disaster area Wednesday. The empress and others of the royal family have donated blood for the victims.

Kakhk, which lies almost on the edge of the great Dasht Kavir Desert, is filled with troops, Red Lion and Sun (Red Cross) personnel and Boy Scouts trying to clear the rubble to find the dead and make way for rebuilding.

Rescuers pulled an old woman and her 3-year-old grandson out of the ruins 48 hours after the quake struck. She was reading the Koran and the child was crying for food.

Another woman veiled to her eyes begged for someone to help her find the bodies of her children and husband.

Some 31 towns and villages were devastated by the quake, and most of them are quickly becoming tent cities as rescue personnel move in. They want to start rebuilding before the pleasant weather of late summer disappears.

Food is being distributed to the hungry and medical aid is pouring in. Premier Amir Abbas Hoveida and five other government ministers are touring the area. They ordered water tankers and building materials sent to the scene.

Save Swimmers In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite 12-foot waves battering Southern California beaches, lifeguards couldn't keep swimmers out of deep water.

More than three dozen were rescued at Zuma Beach alone as 340,000 flocked to Southern California coast beaches.

The huge waves were kicked up Monday by Hurricane Liza off the coast of Mexico about 1,000 miles southwest of Los Angeles.

Organ Transplants Made in Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A team of surgeons transplanted the heart, kidneys and pancreas of a suicide victim into four recipients today, the Hospital das Clinicas reported.

Secrecy was clamped on the operations and no hospital communiqués were issued on the conditions of the four patients.

City Manager Clamps Down; 30 Arrested

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — City Manager William C. Hanley has declared a state of civil disaster in this university city following two days of violence on Telegraph Avenue.

Hanley took the action Monday saying that because of the "state of disaster" he was prohibiting loitering on the avenue between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. as well as assemblies, parades and the use of amplifiers on city streets or other public property.

Hanley acted after a bombing broke a water main Sunday night and a policeman was shot in the leg and four other patrolmen were injured Friday. That outbreak followed a rally protesting police action in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention.

During the two nights of violence 30 persons were arrested.

Young activists are seeking to turn two blocks of Telegraph Avenue into a pedestrian mall.

The avenue is a narrow street lined with small shops and bookstores that runs southward from the University of California campus in this San Francisco East Bay city of 120,000.

The avenue was relatively quiet Monday night as police enforced the new restriction. Leaders of activist and militant groups could not be reached immediately for comment.

Police used tear gas Sunday night to clear away a crowd that was attracted by the explosion that shattered windows, broke the water main and tore a hole in a building under construction. No cause for the blast has yet been found.

Concerning the activists, Police Capt. Vic Vieira said: "They just want the street for rallies and dances and they

State Fair Attendance Sets Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Fair closed Monday with a total attendance well ahead of the old record.

The 1966 record of 1,501,000 was equaled Sunday and another 150,456 visitors on Labor Day boosted the over-all figure for the 113th fair to 1,652,074.

Bob Hope's appearance Sunday was credited with helping to bring more than 200,000 visitors, and on Monday he introduced GOP vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew to an audience of 40,000 at the grandstand.

Singer John Davidson and comedians Allen and Rossi also attracted big crowds to the grandstand Monday.

Lee Scott of Livonia, Mich., won the Buckeye 100 midget auto race at the fair. National defending midget auto champion Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ill., was second across the finishing line, followed by Sam session of Nashville, Mich.

Stoessel Named To Polish Post

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Walter J. Stoessel Jr., a career diplomat in Soviet and European affairs, arrived today to assume the post of U.S. ambassador to Poland.

Stoessel succeeds John A. Gronouski, who left in May to help in Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's election campaign.

Humphrey Calls for Probe of Chicago Disorders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has called for a blue ribbon citizens committee investigation into the roles of demonstrators, police and news media in the bloody protest disorders in Chicago.

The Democratic presidential candidate made the proposal in New York Monday after marching in a Labor Day parade up Fifth Avenue.

Humphrey said the committee—whose members could include lawyers, sociologists, police and media representatives but not public officials—should focus on "the actions of the demonstrators, the conduct of the police and the role of the media."

"I don't know who's really involved, everybody makes charges and countercharges," Humphrey said. "But I do think it was a sad enough picture to the American public that it necessitates a very objective analysis."

He said a group such as the Ford Foundation could take the lead in forming the committee.

Humphrey over the weekend defended Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's police measures. But he said Monday he did not condone beating of demonstrators with clubs and said he didn't think Daley wanted to condone it either.

Humphrey's remarks were in interviews on education station WNDT-TV and for Barry Gray's program on WMCA, both in New York.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace said meanwhile "the mess in Chicago and the mess both national parties have gotten us into" have boosted his chances for election in November.

"That crowd of demonstrators in Chicago was trying to take over the city," Wallace said in Darlington, S.C., "and they would have if it hadn't been for the police."

On the Republican side, presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon's camp rejected Humphrey's proposal that they jointly support the efforts of Paris peace negotiators—saying he already has indicated such support.

A statement issued by Nixon's campaign political director,

Robert Ellsworth, called Humphrey's appeal "a bit of old-style partisan hijinks."

Nixon made clear last spring Ellsworth said, that he would do and say nothing during the campaign that would jeopardize America's bargaining position in the exploratory talks for a Vietnam war solution.

"If Mr. Humphrey wishes now to associate himself with that position," Ellsworth said, "he is at liberty to do so."

In other political developments:

—Formation of a fourth party

with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as its presidential candidate was urged at a rally in Boston Common Monday which drew some 3,000 people. The rally was called by the Citizens for Participation Politics, an offshoot of McCarthy's Massachusetts campaign for the Democratic nomination.

—Humphrey's presidential candidacy was endorsed by W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of the 150,000-member United Mine Workers of America union on the eve of a UMW constitutional convention in Denver that may also endorse Humphrey.

2 Syrian Soldiers Slain In Clash with Israeli Patrol

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian army said two of its soldiers were killed Monday night in the second clash in three days across the usually quiet Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line.
A military communique said Israeli troops in armored cars started the 20-minute machine-gun battle. Israeli casualties, if any, were not known in Damascus.
At the Arab League foreign ministers' meeting in Cairo

Monday, Tunisia's chief delegate tried to criticize the Arab performance in the 1967 war but was cut off. Ambassador Tayeb as Sahabani walked out, and the Tunisian delegation flew home.
"The Arab League is no longer a forum for Arab states to express free opinions," Sahabani declared. Among other things, he had accused Egypt of trying to spread its influence to other states.
Jordanian sources said other Arab League states agreed to contribute funds — and perhaps arms — to Jordan's defenses against any Israeli attacks.
Israel announced for the first time that Egyptian soldiers have sought asylum in Israel. It did not say how many had fled from Egypt or when, but three men produced for an interview on the state radio said they left in the last few weeks.
Two of those interviewed indicated widespread dissatisfaction among Egyptian troops with the way their officers treated them. The third complained of excessive Soviet influence in his homeland.

No Subway Slowdown

NEW YORK (AP) — The early birds of the city's subway straphangers breezed to their destinations this morning despite a threatened rule-book slowdown by subway supervisory personnel.

Last ditch negotiations aimed at averting a slowdown broke off late Monday night and a spokesman for the 1,000-member Subway Supervisors Association said the job action would begin at 7 a.m. as planned.

In response, a Transit Authority spokesman said the high administrative personnel were set to countermand any slowdown orders and that efforts were being taken to assure continuation of normal service.

The city's subways carry 4.5 million fares daily and a slowdown would be expected to spill passengers over onto the TA buses and private bus lines that normally carry about 2.8 million fares a day.

Springfield Man Shot to Death

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A 37-year-old Springfield man was shot to death early today in front of his home.
Police said Elmo Tillion was shot in the back as he started to enter his automobile. He was dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital.
Neighbors told of seeing two men standing near the car shortly before the shooting.
Tillion, who lived with his brother-in-law, was leaving for work, police said.

Quakes in Iran Fatal to 11,000 During Weekend

KAKHK, Iran (AP) — Wrapped in bloodstained clothing, the dazed survivors of this shattered village wander aimlessly through the rubble.
At least 6,000 of the 7,000 people of this once prosperous village are dead or missing following the earthquake Saturday that devastated some 750 square miles in northeastern Iran. Officials estimate the death toll at about 11,000.
In Kakhk, little remains of the attractive little township that once had two broad tree-lined streets with a pool at the crossroads and a mosque-domed mosque overlooking it.
Only the mosque still stands, and it is cracked and could collapse at any moment.
Most of the children are gone, buried in the debris where their homes stood.
Swollen bodies, arms and hands sticking out of the rubble, an occasional child crying for its family—these are left.
Only 3,500 bodies have been recovered, and the search for the missing continues. The feeling among the survivors is one of hopelessness.
The Shah and Empress Farah are to tour the disaster area Wednesday. The empress and others of the royal family have donated blood for the victims.
Kakhk, which lies almost on the edge of the great Dasht Kavir Desert, is filled with troops, Red Lion and Sun (Red Cross) personnel and Boy Scouts trying to clear the rubble to find the dead and make way for rebuilding.
Rescuers pulled an old woman and her 3-year-old grandson out of the ruins 48 hours after the quake struck. She was reading the Koran and the child was crying for food.

Another woman veiled to her eyes begged for someone to help her find the bodies of her children and husband.
Some 31 towns and villages were devastated by the quake, and most of them are quickly becoming tent cities as rescue personnel move in. They want to start rebuilding before the pleasant weather of late summer disappears.
Food is being distributed to the hungry and medical aid is pouring in. Premier Amir Abbas Hoveida and five other government ministers are touring the area. They ordered water tankers and building materials sent to the scene.

Save Swimmers In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite 12-foot waves battering Southern California beaches, lifeguards couldn't keep swimmers out of deep water.
More than three dozen were rescued at Zuma Beach alone as 340,000 flocked to Southern California coast beaches.
The huge waves were kicked up Monday by Hurricane Liza off the coast of Mexico about 1,000 miles southwest of Los Angeles.

Organ Transplants Made in Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A team of surgeons transplanted the heart, kidneys and pancreas of a suicide victim into four recipients today, the Hospital das Clinicas reported.
Secrecy was clamped on the operations and no hospital communiqués were issued on the conditions of the four patients.

Stoessel Named To Polish Post

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Walter J. Stoessel Jr., a career diplomat in Soviet and European affairs, arrived today to assume the post of U.S. ambassador to Poland.
Stoessel succeeds John A. Gronouski, who left in May to help in Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's election campaign.

Humphrey Calls for Probe of Chicago Disorders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has called for a blue ribbon citizens committee investigation into the roles of demonstrators, police and news media in the bloody protest disorders in Chicago.
The Democratic presidential candidate made the proposal in New York Monday after marching in a Labor Day parade up Fifth Avenue.
Humphrey said the committee — whose members could include lawyers, sociologists, police and media representatives but not public officials—should focus on "the actions of the demonstrators, the conduct of the police and the role of the media."

"I don't know who's really involved, everybody makes charges and countercharges," Humphrey said. "But I do think it was a sad enough picture to the American public that it necessitates a very objective analysis."
He said a group such as the Ford Foundation could take the lead in forming the committee.
Humphrey over the weekend defended Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's police measures. But he said Monday he did not condone beating of demonstrators with clubs and said he didn't think Daley wanted to condone it either.

Humphrey's remarks were in interviews on education station WNDT-TV and for Barry Gray's program on WMCA, both in New York.
Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace said meanwhile "the mess in Chicago and the mess both national parties have gotten us into" have boosted his chances for election in November.

"That crowd of demonstrators in Chicago was trying to take over the city," Wallace said in Darlington, S.C., "and they would have if it hadn't been for the police."
On the Republican side, presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon's camp rejected Humphrey's proposal that they jointly support the efforts of Paris peace negotiators—saying he already has indicated such support.
A statement issued by Nixon's campaign political director,

Robert Ellsworth, called Humphrey's appeal "a bit of old-style partisan hijinks."
Nixon made clear last spring Ellsworth said, that he would do and say nothing during the campaign that would jeopardize America's bargaining position in the exploratory talks for a Vietnam war solution.
"If Mr. Humphrey wishes now to associate himself with that position," Ellsworth said, "he is at liberty to do so."
In other political developments:
—Formation of a fourth party

with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as its presidential candidate was urged at a rally in Boston Common Monday which drew some 3,000 people. The rally was called by the Citizens for Participation Politics, an offshoot of McCarthy's Massachusetts campaign for the Democratic nomination.
—Humphrey's presidential candidacy was endorsed by W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of the 150,000-member United Mine Workers of America union on the eve of a UMW constitutional convention in Denver that may also endorse Humphrey.

Hold Cop In Slaying Of Girl, 2

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Authorities swiftly lodged a rookie policeman in the county jail today after he waived an examining trial regarding murder charges against him in the death of 2-year-old Lori Gunn.

Dist. Atty. James Mashburn said he would seek the death penalty in the trial of Michael Lee Moody, 24.

Moody had been in the city jail since his arrest Saturday. Funeral services for the infant were held Monday.

A pathologist's report said Lori suffocated and that she apparently was sexually molested. Moody, a two-year veteran of the Vietnam war, joined the Midland police force shortly after his discharge from the service.

The rookie had been making his home with his mother, Mrs. Jack Walcher, and her husband, a former city councilman.

Lori was last seen riding her tricycle under the carport of the Walcher home. Her body was discovered partly concealed in a sleeping bag in a closet in the Walcher home.

Sgt. Vince Conklin said the Walcher house was being used as a command post in the search for Lori. Conklin said when he and Moody looked through the house for the child Moody backed against a door that was slightly ajar.

Four Charges Brought against City Youth

Four separate charges were brought against James Mogan, 18, of 440 Sunnyview Drive, in Circleville Municipal Court Friday.

Mogan was charged with racing the engine of his motorcycle, running two stop signs and speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone. He was fined a total of $90 and was ordered to pay court costs on all four cases.

James Montgomery, 22, of 115 Highland Ave., forfeited a $60 bond on a reckless operation charge.

Frank Chestnut, 26, of 349 Eva Drive, forfeited a $24 bond for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

Randal Lee Arledge, 156 Pontious Lane, was charged with OMVI and driving with a suspended license. He was fined $250 and costs, jailed five days and had his license revoked for three years on the OMVI charge. On the other offense, he was fined $100 and costs and was jailed for five days. The jail terms will run concurrently.

Larry Keeton, 21, of 326 E. Mound St., forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of racing his engine.

Jeffery Randle, 18, Route 1, Laurelville, was speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone and forfeited a $24 bond.

Sharon Noble, 18, Route 4, forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of running a stop sign.

Harold London Adams, 19, Stoutsville, had no eye covering while riding a motorcycle and forfeited a $19 bond.

Townsend D. Van Camp II, 29, of 585 Ridgewood Drive, was fined $50 and costs for permitting an unlicensed operator to drive. Half the fine was suspended.

Eight out-of-county motorists forfeited a total of $212 in bonds and fines.

want us out of there." "Some are students, but not all, and many are not even Berkeley residents," he continued.

Police Inspector Robert Beren named the groups that sponsored the Friday night rally that preceded the disturbance, but said that demonstration was completed before trouble began.

The groups that sponsored the rally Friday were the Black Panthers, a militant Negro group, the Students for a Democratic Society, the International Socialist Association, the Young Socialist Alliance and the Peace and Freedom Party.

Telegraph was the scene of disturbances from June 28 to July 2 during demands for the pedestrian mall and Hanley issued a report last week saying they were caused by revolutionary and anarchist groups trying to force confrontations with police.

Janitor Discovers Attempted Break-In

FIRE DAMAGES HOME — The residence of Rosie Burchett, rear of 629 S. Scioto St. on Western Ave., suffered about $2,000 damages in a fire 6 p.m. Monday. Firemen battled the blaze, which broke out in the living room, for one hour and 15 minutes. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Owner of the frame house is Opal Leist.

Czechs Chart New Course To Appease Soviet Union

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's liberal leaders charted a careful course today, seeking an early end to the Soviet occupation.

Overly to reopen a road they recently closed in Deercreek Twp. The road had not been used for many years when commissioners took the action to close it.

They instructed Geneva Brink, their clerk, to send Overly a copy of the resolution closing the road.

Commissioners also discussed the need for a janitor at the courthouse.

THEY have had no applications for the post recently vacated by the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Hickey.

The solons expressed a desire to fill the post with a man capable of performing routine maintenance duties.

The county board of elections asked commissioners to reject all bids submitted for voting machines. William Stout, chairman of the board, said that one word in the advertisement for bids made the legality of the action doubtful.

The board planned to meet this afternoon to decide what action to take. Stout indicated that it now appeared too late to have voting machines in time for the November election.

Car Fires Doused

City firemen doused two car fires during the weekend.

One auto, parked at the corner of Mill and Clinton Sts., sustained $10 in damages 3:20 p.m. Monday when the car-burner backfired. Owner of the vehicle was Leo Speakman, 321 Barnes Ave.

Another car caught fire 7:10 p.m. Sunday when a cigarette was left on the floorboard, according to firemen. Damage was set at $10 to the auto, owned by James Richmond, Pulaski, Mich.

Informed sources said Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told the party's central committee not enough attention had been paid to "the opinions of other states in the Warsaw Pact as a limiting factor in the speed and forms of our own political development."

The new, predominantly liberal 21-man Communist party presidium—elected Sunday—met Monday with instructions from the central committee to work for both speedy withdrawal of the 650,000 occupation troops and implementation of the reform program begun in January.

Dubcek's speech was interpreted as a warning to the reformers to go slow. It also appeared to be traditional Communist self-criticism for not anticipating the Soviet intervention.

Vecerni Praha, the only newspaper published in Prague Monday, said the central committee also voted to:

—Support the party leaders who negotiated the agreement in Moscow accepting the Soviet occupation and reimposing press censorship while allowing the liberals to remain in office.

—Restate Czechoslovak allegiance to the Warsaw Pact and repudiate the idea of neutrality.

—Indefinitely postpone the party congress that had been scheduled Sept. 9 to purge orthodox, conservative Communists still in office.

Informed sources said three weekly newspapers active in the liberalization drive would not be permitted to resume publication. They are Literarni Listy, the writers' association paper; a student magazine and the news magazine Reporter. The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda called Sunday for the "liquidation" of Literarni Listy.

Prague was calm Monday as a new school year began. Youngsters returning to classes headed an appeal from Vice Premier Frantisek Hamouz not to gather in large groups near the monument to St. Wenceslas, which has become a shrine honoring those killed

Hold Cop In Slaying Of Girl, 2

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Authorities swiftly lodged a rookie policeman in the county jail today after he waived an examining trial regarding murder charges against him in the death of 2-year-old Lori Gunn.

Dist. Atty. James Mashburn said he would seek the death penalty in the trial of Michael Lee Moody, 24.

Moody had been in the city jail since his arrest Saturday.

Funeral services for the infant were held Monday.

A pathologist's report said Lori suffocated and that she apparently was sexually molested.

Moody, a two-year veteran of the Vietnam war, joined the Midland police force shortly after his discharge from the service.

The rookie had been making his home with his mother, Mrs. Jack Walcher, and her husband, a former city councilman.

Lori was last seen riding her tricycle under the carport of the Walcher home. Her body was discovered partly concealed in a sleeping bag in a closet in the Walcher home.

Sgt. Vince Conklin said the Walcher house was being used as a command post in the search for Lori. Conklin said when he and Moody looked through the house for the child Moody backed against a door that was slightly ajar.

Conklin yanked open the door. When Lori's body fell from the sleeping bag, Conklin arrested Moody.

The child's mother, Mrs. Harry Gunn, is a woman's page columnist for the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Four Charges Brought against City Youth

Four separate charges were brought against James Mogan, 18, of 440 Sunnyview Drive, in Circleville Municipal Court Friday.

Mogan was charged with racing the engine of his motorcycle, running two stop signs and speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone. He was fined a total of $90 and was ordered to pay court costs on all four charges.

James Montgomery, 22, of 115 Highland Ave., forfeited a $80 bond on a reckless operation charge.

Frank Chestnut, 26, of 349 Eva Drive, forfeited a $24 bond for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

Randal Lee Arledge, 156 Pontious Lane, was charged with OVI and driving with a suspended license. He was fined $250 and costs, jailed five days and had his license revoked for three years on the OVI charge. On the other offense, he was fined $100 and costs and was jailed for five days. The jail terms will run concurrently.

Larry Keeton, 21, of 326 E. Mound St., forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of racing his engine.

Jeffery Randle, 18, Route 1, Laurelville, was speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone and forfeited a $24 bond.

Sharon Noble, 18, Route 4, forfeited a $24 bond on a charge of running a stop sign.

Harold London Adams, 19, Stoutsville, had no eye covering while riding a motorcycle and forfeited a $19 bond.

Townsend D. Van Camp II, 29, of 585 Ridgewood Drive, was fined $50 and costs for permitting an unlicensed operator to drive. Half the fine was suspended.

Eight out-of-county motorists forfeited a total of $212 in bonds and fines.

"Some are students, but not all, and many are not even Berkeley residents," he continued.

Police Inspector Robert Beren named the groups that sponsored the Friday night rally that preceded the disturbance, but said that demonstration was completed before trouble began.

The groups that sponsored the rally Friday were the Black Panthers, a militant Negro group, the Students for a Democratic Society, the International Socialist Association, the Young Socialist Alliance and the Peace and Freedom Party.

Telegraph was the scene of disturbances from June 28 to July 2 during demands for the pedestrian mall and Hanley issued a report last week saying they were caused by revolutionary and anarchist groups trying to force confrontations with police.

Janitor Discovers Attempted Break-In

Ray Badger, janitor of Bingham Drug Store, W. Main St., discovered an attempted break in at the store Monday morning.

Vandals had apparently tried to pry a back door off the wall to gain entrance. They had moved the door nearly two inches when they gave up.

Mailboxes Damaged

Vandals damaged four mailboxes in the vicinity of Ringgold during the weekend.

Reporting damage to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were Betty Brown, Charles Kuhn, Guy Jacobs and C. W. Sykes, all of Route 4.

New Fireman Appointed to City Force

Robert D. Cotton, 27, 543 S. Scioto St., has been given a provisional appointment effective Monday with the Circleville Fire Department by Robert Adkins, city safety director.

Cotton was employed by the city water department from July 16, 1964, until he was appointed to the fire department.

He has been placed on number two shift with Lt. Mike Brown, Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe said today.

The fire department is fully staffed, with 10 men.

Cotton plans to take the civil service test for the fire department the next time it is given.

Recorder Issues Monthly Report

The number of recordings processed by the county recorder's office during the month of August was 282. This shows an increase over the previous month and continued increase for the year.

Recordings included 133 deeds; 89 real estate mortgages, involving $1,022,436.69; and 60 miscellaneous recordings.

Monies amounting to $648,209.84 were involved in the 50 real estate mortgages cancelled.

The monthly report also included the filing and processing of 211 financing statements, according to county recorder, Hazel M. Yeatts.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee is setting up a branch in Europe to get out the absentee vote and raise money among Americans living there.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said Monday about 2 million Americans, including servicemen, live in Europe. He said subsidiary committees to seek their support will operate in France, Germany, Belgium, the United Kingdom and Italy.

Speakers, starting with former movie star Shirley Temple Black, will tour leading European cities between now and mid-September, Bliss said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington-area Catholic priests who have been warned they may face canonical penalties unless they retract dissent to Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control say they will seek a grievance hearing.

Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle issued the warning Monday to 52 priests who signed a statement saying married couples under some circumstances may use artificial contraception "according to their consciences."

A spokesman for the 52 members of the Association of Washington Priests said they will not retract the statement portions involved and will seek a hearing before the grievance committee of the National Council of Catholic Bishops.

Capital Footnotes

The federal payroll for 3,063,139 civilian executive-branch employes reached a record $22.4 billion in the fiscal year ending last June 30, the House-Senate Committee on Reduction of Federal Expenditures reported today. It said that was $2 billion above last year as a result of a pay raise approved by Congress and an increase in the number of employes.

The United States will have a pavilion at the 1969 biennial Paris Air Show, an event in which it has participated since the inaugural show in 1909, says Commerce Secretary C. R. Smith.

Gold had been hammered into sheets as thin as 1-250,000 of an inch.

Car Fires Doused

City firemen doused two car fires during the weekend.

One auto, parked at the corner of Mill and Clinton Sts., sustained $10 in damages 3:20 p.m. Monday when the car-burner backfired. Owner of the vehicle was Leo Speakman, 321 Barnes Ave.

Another car caught fire 7:10 p.m. Sunday when a cigarette was left on the floorboard, according to firemen. Damage was set at $19 to the auto, owned by James Richmond, Pulaski, Mich.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME — The residence of Rosie Burchett, rear of 629 S. Scioto St. on Western Ave., suffered about $2,000 damages in a fire 6 p.m. Monday. Firemen battled the blaze, which broke out in the living room, for one hour and 15 minutes. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Owner of the frame house is Opal Leist.

Czechs Chart New Course To Appease Soviet Union

Overly to reopen a road they recently closed in Deercreek Twp. The road had not been used for many years when commissioners took the action to close it.

They instructed Geneva Brink, their clerk, to send Overly a copy of the resolution closing the road.

Commissioners also discussed the need for a janitor at the courthouse.

THEY have had no applications for the post recently vacated by the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Hickey.

The solons expressed a desire to fill the post with a man capable of performing routine maintenance duties.

The county board of elections asked commissioners to reject all bids submitted for voting machines. William Stout, chairman of the board, said that one word in the advertisement for bids made the legality of the action doubtful.

The board planned to meet this afternoon to decide what action to take. Stout indicated that it now appeared too late to have voting machines in time for the November election.

Informed sources said Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told the party's central committee not enough attention had been paid to "the opinions of other states in the Warsaw Pact as a limiting factor in the speed and forms of our own political development."

The new, predominantly liberal 21-man Communist party presidium—elected Sunday—met Monday with instructions from the central committee to work for both speedy withdrawal of the 650,000 occupation troops and implementation of the reform program begun in January.

Dubcek's speech was interpreted as a warning to the reformers to go slow. It also appeared to be traditional Communist self-criticism for not anticipating the Soviet intervention.

Vecejni Praha, the only newspaper published in Prague Monday, said the central committee also voted to:

—Support the party leaders who negotiated the agreement in Moscow accepting the Soviet occupation and reimposing press censorship while allowing the liberals to remain in office.

Czechs and Soviet Soldiers Hold Series of 'Debates'

PRAGUE (AP) — If you want a grass roots discussion of the issues between Soviet communism and the more liberal variety, there's nothing like a debate between a Soviet soldier and a Czech student furious at the invasion of his country. You can hear such a debate any night in Wenceslas Square, in the center of Prague.

The participants: For Moscow—the crew of a Soviet armored car on guard outside the office of a newspaper appropriately called Svobodno Slovo, Free Speech.

For Prague—a variety of youths, most of them wearing blue jeans and sports shirts, and a few of their elders, too.

It's fairly primitive stuff, but nobody can be accused of dodging the issues.

"Why did you come here?" asks a long-haired Czech boy aggressively.

"There's a counterrevolution here," replies a Soviet private of about the same age. "We came to save you from capitalism."

"Have you seen any counter-revolutionaries or capitalists around? We're all Socialists here. We want our own kind of socialism. We didn't ask you to come."

"You Czechs shoot at us. There are 40,000 counter-revolutionaries in Czechoslovakia."

"How do you know?"

"It says so in Pravda."

"Do you believe what you read in Pravda or what you see with your own eyes?"

It goes on for hours. Finally the Soviet officer in charge says good naturedly that it's time for everyone to go to bed.

Large Crowd Sees Mustang Roundup

A capacity crowd attended the Mustang Roundup, held Friday, at Westfall High School.

Dick Wellington served as announcer for the evening, introducing first the American Legion Post of Williamsport, under the direction of Mr. Donald McDill, Commander, who conducted flag raising ceremonies, followed by the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Westfall High School Band, directed by Mr. Larry Eicher.

Jeff Bigam and Jon Wilson, presented a preview of the 1968 football team, coached by Dave Ketterhenrich. Team formations and player positions were explained, and the team presented drills used prior to games and practice sessions.

The Westfall High School band was led onto the field by Miss Donna Justus, head majorette, presenting a group of formations and outstanding music to the delight of the audience. They immediately formed a parade group and led the beauty contestants in a parade around the field.

Ed Johnson, Worthington, who served as master of ceremonies for the beauty contest, was in the lead car, followed by the judges: Miss Ruth Stout, Mrs. Myra Rader, Mr. Thoburn Blaney, and George Hamrick, and a beautiful stagecoach pulled by a team of horses carried Charlie CARLA Cornwell, Miss Mustang of 1967, on her final reign of a position held since the 1967 Roundup. Contestants were presented on a variety of vehicles — cars, trucks, tractors, and a bright red wrecker.

Contestants were presented individually by Johnson, on a farm wagon stage. They were interviewed and asked to answer a variety of questions. After much deliberation, the judges selected Miss Atlanta Grain, Wendell (Wanda) Hott, as Miss Mustang of 1968. Miss Hott was attired in a one piece navy blue playsuit ensemble, yellow panty hose, and white pumps. She received her crown from Carla, a ribbon and a beautiful bouquet of mixed flowers. First attendant, Don (Dreama) Streitenberger, Miss Vincent Equipment, was wearing a classic autumn yellow jumper, long sleeved green knit shirt, and mesh hose. Second attendant, Miss So-Hi-Gro, Tim (Patula) McFadden, was outstanding with a genuine salt and pepper beard, well groomed for the event, and wore a multicolor jersey dress, and a great number of colored necklaces and enormous red plastic earrings.

Each received a ribbon and small bouquet of mums. Miss Lingo Sinclair, Dave (Fannie) Snyder, was selected as Miss Congeniality, wearing a conservative blue wool dress, with a small bittersweet scarf at the neck, with a matching garter, which she neglected to throw to the audience in her confusion.

The cheerleaders are under the direction of Miss Pat Ogle.

Sponsoring candidates were Marian Flowers, Huffman Cleaners, Mt. Sterling Flower Garden, Winfough's Fertilizer, Mt. Sterling, George's Electric, Harvestore, C. K. McFarland and Sons, Circleville; C. & J. Market, Five Points; Vincent's Equipment, Landmark Florizer, Derby; Hughes Store, Atlanta Grain, SoHiGro, Olin Matheson, Atlanta; and Lingo Sinclair, Dairy Shed, Deer Creek Auto Parts, Leist & Keller Garage, Ilo's Beauty Shop, Horch Market, Helen's Beauty Shop, Wright Lumber, V & Y Construction, News Publishing Co., Fry's Store, The Dunlap Company, Williamsport; and

Iowa, North Dakota, Nevada Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Attention focuses on Republican contests today as voters go to the polls in primary elections in Iowa, Nevada and North Dakota.

Iowa Republicans mark ballots in a four-way race for the nomination to succeed retiring Republican Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper. Gov. Harold E. Hughes appeared a certain victory for the Democratic bid.

The GOP contest to oppose Nevada's Democratic Sen. Alan Bible has first-term Lt. Gov. Ed Fike pitted against veteran prosecutor William Raggio of Reno. Party leaders saw a close race.

In North Dakota, the GOP contestants bidding to oppose Democratic Gov. William L. Guy are Ed Doherty, a weekly newspaper publisher from New Rockford, and Robert P. McCarney, a Bismark car dealer. Neither has held elective office while Guy seeks an unprecedented fourth two-year term.

A light vote was expected in North Dakota but Nevada officials predicted a 60 per cent turnout and a heavier-than-usual showing was expected in Iowa.

The first polls open at 7 a.m.

Ike Continues His Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is spending more time reading now that he's showing steady progress recovering from his seventh heart attack.

"His progress continues to be favorable," said doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital Monday.

Eisenhower, 77, is reading Western novels to while away the time, doctors said. The five-star general and former president has been bedridden most of the time since suffering the first of four heart attacks in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29.

local time in all three states. The last ones close at 7 p.m. in Nevada and North Dakota and 8 p.m. in Iowa.

The four-way battle in Iowa includes former Rep. James Bromwell of Cedar Rapids; State Sen. David M. Stanley, of Muscatine; former state Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman of Nevada, and William Plymat, a Des Moines insurance man.

Stanley, who announced his candidacy six months before Hickenlooper said he would retire after 24 years, issued the press an invitation to his victory celebration but the polls indicated a close race between Stanley and Bromwell, who has Hickenlooper's endorsement.

Gov. Hughes is opposed by Des Moines insurance man Robert Nereim.

State Treasurer Pat Franzburg is unopposed for the Democratic bid to succeed Hughes as governor but the GOP has a three-way contest. Robert Ray, who quit as GOP state chairman to make the race; Donald Johnson a past national commander of the American Legion, and former State Rep. Robert K. Beck are the contenders.

Only one of the seven incumbents seeking renomination to Congress is opposed. Rep. John Kyl of Bloomfield is opposed in the GOP primary by H. Paul Dee of Marshalltown.

In Nevada, Democratic Rep. Walter S. Baring sought his ninth term, and was given the edge over Richard Ham of Las Vegas. The GOP race is between two Reno men—State Sen. James Slattery and Clyde

Mathews Jr., a former Baptist minister.

There are no Senate contests in North Dakota, where Republican Sen. Milton Young and Democrat Herschel Lashkowitz, mayor of Fargo, are unopposed.

Republican Rep. Thomas Kleppe is opposed by State Labor Commissioner Orville Hagen in the only GOP congressional contest in North Dakota.

Czechs and Soviet Soldiers Hold Series of 'Debates'

PRAGUE (AP) — If you want a grass roots discussion of the issues between Soviet communism and the more liberal variety, there's nothing like a debate between a Soviet soldier and a Czech student furious at the invasion of his country.

You can hear such a debate any night in Wenceslas Square, in the center of Prague.

The participants: For Moscow—the crew of a Soviet armored car on guard outside the office of a newspaper appropriately called Svobodno Slovo, Free Speech.

For Prague—a variety of youths, most of them wearing blue jeans and sports shirts, and a few of their elders, too.

It's fairly primitive stuff, but nobody can be accused of dodging the issues.

"Why did you come here?" asks a long-haired Czech boy aggressively.

"There's a counterrevolution here," replies a Soviet private of about the same age. "We came to save you from capitalism."

"Have you seen any counter-revolutionaries or capitalists around? We're all Socialists here. We want our own kind of socialism. We didn't ask you to come."

"You Czechs shoot at us. There are 40,000 counter-revolutionaries in Czechoslovakia."

"How do you know?"

"It says so in Pravda."

"Do you believe what you read in Pravda or what you see with your own eyes?"

It goes on for hours. Finally the Soviet officer in charge says good naturedly that it's time for everyone to go to bed.

Iowa, North Dakota, Nevada Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Attention focuses on Republican contests today as voters go to the polls in primary elections in Iowa, Nevada and North Dakota.

Iowa Republicans mark ballots in a four-way race for the nomination to succeed retiring Republican Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper. Gov. Harold E. Hughes appeared a certain victory for the Democratic bid.

The GOP contest to oppose Nevada's Democratic Sen. Alan Bible has first-term Lt. Gov. Ed Fike pitted against veteran pro-securator William Raggio of Reno. Party leaders saw a close race.

In North Dakota, the GOP contestants bidding to oppose Democratic Gov. William L. Guy are Ed Doherty, a weekly newspaper publisher from New Rockford, and Robert P. McCarney, a Bismarck car dealer. Neither has held elective office while Guy seeks an unprecedented fourth two-year term.

A light vote was expected in North Dakota but Nevada officials predicted a 60 per cent turnout and a heavier-than-usual showing was expected in Iowa.

The first polls open at 7 a.m.

Ike Continues His Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is spending more time reading now that he's showing steady progress recovering from his seventh heart attack.

"His progress continues to be favorable," said doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital Monday.

Eisenhower, 77, is reading Western novels to while away the time, doctors said. The five-star general and former president has been bedridden most of the time since suffering the first of four heart attacks in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29.

local time in all three states. The last ones close at 7 p.m. in Nevada and North Dakota and 8 p.m. in Iowa.

The four-way battle in Iowa includes former Rep. James Brownell of Cedar Rapids; State Sen. David M. Stanley, of Muscatine; former state Atty. Gen. Dayton Countyman of Nevada, and William Plymat, a Des Moines insurance man.

Stanley, who announced his candidacy six months before Hickenlooper said he would retire after 24 years, issued the press an invitation to his victory celebration but the polls indicated a close race between Stanley and Brownell, who has Hickenlooper's endorsement.

Gov. Hughes is opposed by Des Moines insurance man Robert Nereim.

State Treasurer Pat Franzburg is unopposed for the Democratic bid to succeed Hughes as governor but the GOP race is between two Reno men—State Sen. James Slattery and Clyde man to make the race; Donald Johnson a past national commander of the American Legion, and former State Rep. Robert K. Beck are the contenders.

Only one of the seven incumbents seeking renomination to Congress is opposed. Rep. John Kyl of Bloomfield is opposed in the GOP primary by H. Paul Dee of Marshalltown.

In Nevada, Democratic Rep. Walter S. Baring sought his ninth term, and was given the edge over Richard Ham of Las Vegas. The GOP race is between two Reno men—State Sen. James Slattery and Clyde

Mathews Jr., a former Baptist minister.

There are no Senate contests in North Dakota, where Republican Sen. Milton Young and Democrat Herschel Lashkowitz, mayor of Fargo, are unopposed.

Republican Rep. Thomas Kleppe is opposed by State Labor Commissioner Orville Hagen in the only GOP congressional contest in North Dakota.

Hope for Saucer Fans

Flying saucer buffs don't despair. The paucity of UFO sightings this summer and the debunking attitude of scientists participating in the Air Force-sponsored UFO study now underway at the University of Colorado doesn't necessarily mean that the little green men from outer space have given up the earth as a lost cause.

Some scientists still believe there is a possibility that the earth might be under surveillance by creatures from another galactic civilization. They have asked Congress to support a thorough investigation of the UFO phenomenon.

One of the scientists, Dr. James E. McDonald, senior physicist at the University of Arizona's Institute of Atmospheric Physics, notes that there were many UFO sightings reported up and down the eastern seaboard in late 1965, about the time of the power failure that blacked out most of the northeastern coast.

Emphasizing that the cause of the power pulse that caused the failure has never been ascertained, McDonald calls the sightings "a puzzling and slightly disturbing coincidence."

As for the lag in sightings of saucers this summer, there could be a good explanation for that, too. Possibly after sizing up the lethal weapons in the atomic arsenals of the world's leading powers the galactic visitors went back for reinforcements.

Progress in Fun City

It's no joke — horse-drawn cabs in New York City will be equipped with meters, according to the city's license commissioner.

There is no intention of adding to the gaiety of Fun City. Some patrons have been overcharged, it is alleged.

Passengers of the ancient rigs will not be charged by the mile or the clop, but $5 for the first half-hour and $2 per half-hour or fraction thereafter.

The equine-propelled equipages will continue to operate in Central Park, and there are no plans to extend their territory, although some visitors to the city contend they would be speedier than mechanized traffic.

Foe of Freedom

The Soviet Union has again given clear evidence that the very fiber of its being is inimical to the aspirations of men in the Western Hemisphere.

It invaded a tiny nation — a nation which had pledged its allegiance in matters of foreign policy and defense only three weeks before at Bratislava

— with hackneyed justifications as old as the Egyptian Pharaohs.

It is not enough that the free world pause long enough to shed a tear for another small and distinguished nation which has been raped again for the crime of merely attempting that which free men take for granted.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The piracy of trained employees, the luring of them to other and often competitive companies, has long been a custom in American corporate life despite public denials.

Where but from your competitor can you pick up skilled employees and an edge in sales at the same time? And how better can you avoid the high cost in time and money of training workers?

In this day of highly refined abilities and a spotty shortage of workers the problem is pestering the industry as it seldom has before. The problem exists not merely in regard to high level executives but to $75-a-week clerks as well.

In financial districts all over America, for example, a great deal of piracy is practiced. Clerical workers sometimes consider as many offers as a college baseball star.

"We have trained workers for four weeks," said the top partner in a nationwide brokerage house, "and then had somebody else lure them away as experienced help."

More than half the employers in a survey by the Bureau of National Affairs, a publisher of business information, reported they have problems with competitors over pirating of workers.

free to move and, in fact, often are free to do so because of their transferable skills.

Despite this freedom, there is evidence that corporations are getting disturbed enough to react in the courts. That is what Motorola Inc. did when eight executives left for a competitor, Fairchild Camera and Instrument Corp.

Leading the exodus, chronologically, was C. Lester Hogan, director, executive vice president and general manager of an important Motorola electronics parts plant in Phoenix. To accept the presidency of Fairchild, he reportedly was offered a salary of $120,000, stock options and loans, and a brand new house.

Within days the following took place: seven other important workers left to join Hogan, the price of Motorola stock fell and that of Fairchild rose, and Motorola filed a suit accusing Hogan of violating his obligations to the firm. Motorola sought not only damages against the eight men and their wives, but a prohibition against the use of Motorola trade secrets.

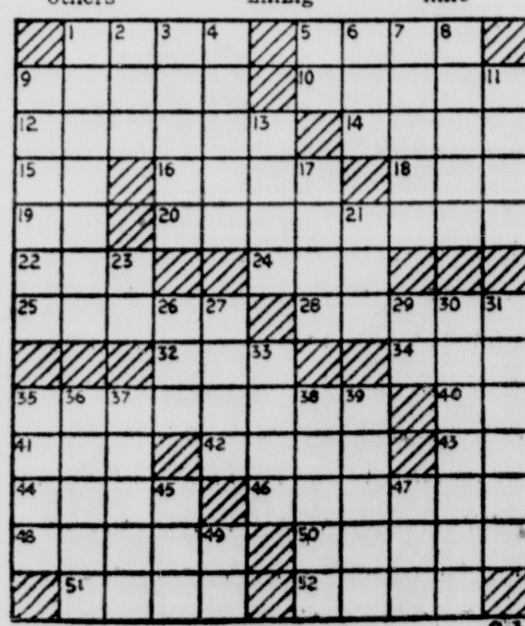

Although Hogan said his lawyers consider the Motorola claim to be without foundation, the very act of filing suit is bound to make some of today's mobile executives hesitant to move, at least as a team.

The first hearing is scheduled for Sept. 26 at Phoenix and will be watched by thousands of employees, executive recruiters and personnel chief. It could be a landmark decision.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN PEORIA, a distinguished newspaper editor explained why Abe Lincoln had he lived today, would not have had so much trouble getting a sound education. Because of his height, every basketball coach in the state would be waving a scholarship at him.

In the heyday of his success, the great French novelist Honore de Balzac was indulgently scribbling autographs for admirers at a watering resort when an elderly lady deposited a dog-eared notebook in his lap and said, "Would you glance at one or two of these compositions and tell me if you think their young author has any possibilities?" Balzac indulgently leafed through the notebook, then pontificated, "Madam, I believe in being frank. The lad who perpetrated these pieces is obviously slovenly, unimaginative, and utterly devoid of talent. Train him to be a garbage collector, if you will, but don't, I beg you, encourage him to do any more writing."

"How fascinating," chuckled the elderly lady. "If you will turn to the name on the inside of the cover of this notebook, you will observe it was your very own when you were a little boy — Monsieur Herriot's school!"

Restaurateur Toots Shor is noted neither for his reticence nor his inability to tip an insulting patron. Sports writer Jimmy Cannon left him speechless, however, one day at the Shor establishment when every light in the joint suddenly dimmed. "Justice triumphs at last," crowed Cannon. "They've electrocuted the chef!"

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Families living in northern climates hardly realize that pinworm infections of the intestinal tract of children occur with some frequency. Despite rigid cleanliness in the home and excellent hygiene habits, intestinal parasites or worms do occur in all social levels.

At first, families are embarrassed because they feel that it reflects poorly on the hygiene in the home. It does not. Children will pick up these parasite infections at school, in the playground, and in camps.

The pinworm, or Oxyuris Vermicularis, has no special regard for the social, intellectual, economic, or the geographical position of families. Often, the symptoms go unnoticed for a long time because they are so vague. In southern, sub-tropical climates, pinworm infestations are so common that the condition is suspected in every child during a physical examination.

Persistent rectal itching, poor appetite, weakness, intestinal discomfort, cramps and unexplained nausea and vomiting suggest to physicians the possibility that such a parasite exists. The diagnosis is readily confirmed by microscopic examination of the stool.

In order to understand the frequency of this condition, let me show how this disease can be transmitted from one person to another. The eggs of the pinworm hatch and grow in the intestine. Because the worm is so irritating, itching of the rectal area becomes intense. The child then scratches and thus contaminates his own fingers and, when he eats, introduces the egg into his mouth with his food and starts the cycle all over again. It is common for all members of the family to become contaminated. Adults who wash their hands before eating are less likely to become infected.

There are now a number of excellent, safe anti-parasite medicines which effectively destroy the parasite and cure the condition. In order to avoid further contamination, rigid sanitation must be maintained during treatment and even after the condition is thought to be controlled.

Children and adults must wash their hands and fingernails especially thoroughly, before each meal. The fingernails should be cut short and scrubbed with a brush after going to the toilet and before eating.

Underclothes should be changed daily and bathing twice a day is important. Each member of the family should have his own towel. The one used for the body should not be the same as the one used for drying the face. Bedclothes should be laundered daily. Children must be discouraged from putting their hands in their mouths. Toys, too, must be cleaned if reinfestation is to be avoided.

There is no shame if a member of the family has this condition. As I stated, it occurs on all social levels and energy should be devoted to curing the condition rather than pretending that it does not exist. It is only fair that the parents of other children, who are playmates, should be alerted that pinworms exist and that there may be a need for careful observation.

Don't squeeze a boil or pimple. A wet dressing is better.

Indians Study Abroad

NEW DELHI (AP) — Nearly 20,000 Indians are abroad engaged in study, research or training in science. More than half of them are in the United States.

On official survey showed 90 per cent of Indians studying abroad are concentrated in three countries — the United States, Britain and West Germany.

Keep It Small

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Federal Housing Ministry plans to build cottage type bungalows for ministers and senior officials, housing minister Jagannatha Rao said.

He said the original scheme of building multistoried buildings did NOT find favor with ministers because of a fear that they "would lose their identity."

Ask Emily Post

DENVER (AP) — A male supervisor, filling in for an operator during this year's telephone strike, was asked by a woman caller, "shall I call you operator or sir?"

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Wouldn't you hate to wear a gas mask as you go about your daily tasks? People may have to do so if the U.S. air pollution worsens, warns Dr. Wilfrid Bach, University of Cincinnati scientist. He estimates the 142 million tons of pollutants put each year into our atmosphere causes an economic loss of $12 billion and that it could be cut two-thirds by an annual expenditure of $4 billion.

Your body is an awesome feat of engineering. The mileage of your blood system alone—60,000—is greater than the U.S. federal highway program. To keep it functioning, your fist-sized heart beats some 2½ billion times in 70 years.

Quotable notables: "Cooking is like love. It should be entered into with abandon or not at all." —Harriet Van Horne.

Southpaw rodents: About one in 10 human beings are left-handed, and perhaps more would be if their tendency in childhood weren't curbed by teachers and parents. But a recent study of mice showed that half of them were left-pawed.

Br-r-r: Cryotherapy, treatment with cold, is being used for a widening range of ailments. Corpses have even been frozen in the hope that they can be revived at a later time when science has discovered cures for their fatal diseases. But cryotherapy itself isn't new. Hippocrates, the father of medicine, prescribed applications of ice and snow to check bleeding and reduce pain.

Dental health tip: If you don't spend at least two minutes in brushing your teeth, you're probably not really getting them clean. A survey also found that 80 per cent of toothbrushes in use were too worn to do the job right.

Worth remembering: "The only compliment some husbands pay their wives is to marry them."—Arnold Glasow.

Prosperity note: Many people in the middle-income brackets now pay more for government than they do for groceries. The Tax Foundation figured that if you earn $12,000 a year and have a wife and two children, you are probably forking out $2,789 for food but $4,080 to support your local, state and federal governments.

Don't let your children abandon hope of a higher education simply because they weren't scholastic standouts in high school. It is more fiction than fact that colleges are much tougher to get into. About seven per cent of the most popular ones are, because they receive about half of all applications. But many others have vacancies and are looking for new students.

It was Charles F. Kettering who observed, "Success is getting what you want; happiness is wanting what you get."

Daley Was Scared Stiff

CHICAGO —The music goes round and round, and so do the arguments about "security" in this, the big "law and order" year.

Who was to blame for the "overkill" practiced by Mayor Daley's police to keep the yippies from marching to the Democratic Convention Hall through lower class white districts where the American (I.E., the "law and order") flag was displayed in practically every house? Was it defective cop training? Or was it an inevitable reaction to an insidious slow-motion provocation by the new left? The chicken-and-egg conundrum is as nothing when compared to this one.

The truth would seem to be that an overkill in threats is followed by an overkill in defense preparations, which together spell dynamite. Those of us who came to Chicago from New York had been hearing of the new left plans to create a convention chaos ever since the yippies hoodlums tore the hands off the clock in Grand Central Terminal last spring. Mayor Daley had these reports, and when new left leader Tom Hayden, who likes to talk about the necessity of "tactics of prolonged direct action to put heat on government," hove into town the jaws were clenched at city hall.

One way of judging the repressive measures which blocked the new left kids from marching out of Grant Park on Michigan Avenue toward the south and west sides, where there is always plenty of ignitable social tinder, is to place what happened alongside of what might have come to pass if the police had been permissive. The leaders of the south side black population had resolved to cause Mayor Daley no trouble, lest they be blamed for a debacle that would put Richard Nixon — or even George Wallace — in the White House. And Mayor Daley's own people, who spruced up their houses with new paint along the streets to the convention hall out near the stockyards, were well in hand, too. But if the yippies had appeared yelling revolution in the negro slums or "down with the law and order bag" among the various ethnic groups who think primarily in terms of defending their own hard-won property, the head-cracking and the tear-gassing that took place in front of the Conrad Hilton Hotel would have been multiplied to the ninth degree.

In view of the possibilities — nay, the probabilities — it was a little ungracious of Connecticut Senator Abe Ribicoff to stand up and lecture Mayor Daley and the Illinois delegation when he should have been tending to the business of nominating Senator McGovern of South Dakota. And it was not exactly called for when Frank Mankiewicz, press secretary to the late Robert Kennedy, used his rostrum time for seconding McGovern to condemn the "nightsticks and the tear gas, and the mindless brutality we have seen on our television screens tonight." This sort of stuff is holier-than-thou, a species of verbal overkill in itself. Looking almost apoplectic, Mayor Daley yelled to Ribicoff to go home. He should have used a softer injunction, the Biblical one of "Let Him who is Without Sin Cast the First Stone." For it was just a year ago that the police of New Haven, Connecticut, in Ribicoff's own home state, used mace in fairly massive doses to check what threatened to become a small-scale Detroit or Newark. "Over-reaction" is not peculiar to Chicago.

The case of Frank Mankiewicz is another puzzler. For surely it was the possibility of more political assassinations that caused Mayor Daley to take such massive precautions to seal the convention amphitheatre at Chicago against the threat of possible violence. If someone had taken the precaution to frisk Sirhan Sirhan at the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles, Bobby Kennedy would have been alive. And if there had been better precautions in Dallas, Jack Kennedy might have been the outgoing president this year, not Lyndon Johnson. If anyone in the world should be in a position to understand Mayor Daley's psychology, it should be Frank Mankiewicz and all the other Kennedys.

This is not to justify indiscriminate head-cracking. It is only to make the point that nobody has much right to be smug about "Fortress Chicago." Between the threats of the new left to pour thousands of disorderly kids into Chicago and the memory of two murdered Kennedys, the Mayor was scared stiff. As who wouldn't have been?

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Sept. 3, the 247th day of 1968. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1763, the Treaty of Paris was signed between the United States and Britain, officially ending the Revolutionary War.

On this date: In 1658, Oliver Cromwell, known in history as the Lord Protector of England, died.

In 1892, Britain assumed a protectorate over the Gilbert Islands in the Central Pacific.

In 1916, in World War I, the Allies turned back the Germans at Verdun, France.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany at the start of World War II. In 1943, also in World War II, the Allies invaded the Italian mainland.

In 1945, Singapore was returned to British control after being occupied by the Japanese since 1942.

Ten years ago — A dispute arose between the United States and the Soviet Union as a U.S. Air Force transport plane crashed in Soviet Armenia near the Turkish border.

Five years ago — The Soviet Union vetoed a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning the murder of two Israeli farmers by Syrians.

One year ago — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu was elected president of South Vietnam.

Harlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Hope for Saucer Fans

Flying saucer buffs don't despair.

The paucity of UFO sightings this summer and the debunking attitude of scientists participating in the Air Force-sponsored UFO study now underway at the University of Colorado doesn't necessarily mean that the little green men from outer space have given up the earth as a lost cause.

Some scientists still believe there is a possibility that the earth might be under surveillance by creatures from another galactic civilization. They have asked Congress to support a thorough investigation of the UFO phenomenon.

One of the scientists, Dr. James E. McDonald, senior physicist at the University of Arizona's Institute of Atmospheric Physics, notes that there were many UFO sightings reported up and down the eastern seaboard in late 1965, about the time of the power failure that blacked out most of the northeastern coast.

Emphasizing that the cause of the power pulse that caused the failure has never been ascertained, McDonald calls the sightings "a puzzling and slightly disturbing coincidence."

As for the lag in sightings of saucers this summer, there could be a good explanation for that, too. Possibly after sizing up the lethal weapons in the atomic arsenals of the world's leading powers the galactic visitors went back for reinforcements.

Progress in Fun City

It's no joke — horse-drawn cabs in New York City will be equipped with meters, according to the city's license commissioner.

There is no intention of adding to the gaiety of Fun City. Some patrons have been overcharged, it is alleged.

Passengers of the ancient rigs will not be charged by the mile or the clop, but $5 for the first half-hour and $2 per half-hour or fraction thereafter.

The equine-propelled equipages will continue to operate in Central Park, and there are no plans to extend their territory, although some visitors to the city contend they would be speedier than mechanized traffic.

Foe of Freedom

The Soviet Union has again given clear evidence that the very fiber of its being is inimical to the aspirations of men in the Western Hemisphere.

It invaded a tiny nation — a nation which had pledged its allegiance in matters of foreign policy and defense only three weeks before at Bratislava

— with hackneyed justifications as old as the Egyptian Pharaohs.

It is not enough that the free world pause long enough to shed a tear for another small and distinguished nation which has been raped again for the crime of merely attempting that which free men take for granted.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The piracy of trained employees, the luring of them to other and often competitive companies, has long been a custom in American corporate life despite public denials.

Where but from your competitor can you pick up skilled employees and an edge in sales at the same time? And how better can you avoid the high cost in time and money of training workers?

In this day of highly refined abilities and a spotty shortage of workers the problem is pestering the industry as it seldom has before. The problem exists not merely in regard to high level executives but to $75-a-week clerks as well.

In financial districts all over America, for example, a great deal of piracy is practiced. Clerical workers sometimes consider as many offers as a college baseball star.

"We have trained workers for four weeks," said the top partner in a nationwide brokerage house, "and then had somebody else lure them away as experienced help."

More than half the employers in a survey by the Bureau of National Affairs, a publisher of business information, reported they have problems with competitors over poaching of workers.

A few of the companies, the bureau found, expressed resignation to the situation with statements such as, "That's the name of the game," and, "This is a way of life." But some companies were indignant.

"There is one local company that fills all its requirements from among our best employees," one said.

The most common defense, the survey showed, is through salary increases, and sometimes through improvements in working conditions and opportunities. Another is through agreements to leave each other's employees alone.

Increasingly, workers also are tending to view themselves as professionals, tied not to a particular company but to a discipline, skill or goal. They feel free to move and, in fact, often are free to do so because of their transferable skills.

Despite this freedom, there is evidence that corporations are getting disturbed enough to react in the courts. That is what Motorola Inc. did when competitor Fairchild Camera and Instrument Corp.

Leading the exodus, chronologically, was C. Lester Hogan, director, executive vice president and general manager of an important Motorola electronics parts plant in Phoenix. To accept the presidency of Fairchild, he reportedly was offered a salary of $120,000, stock options and loans, and a brand new house.

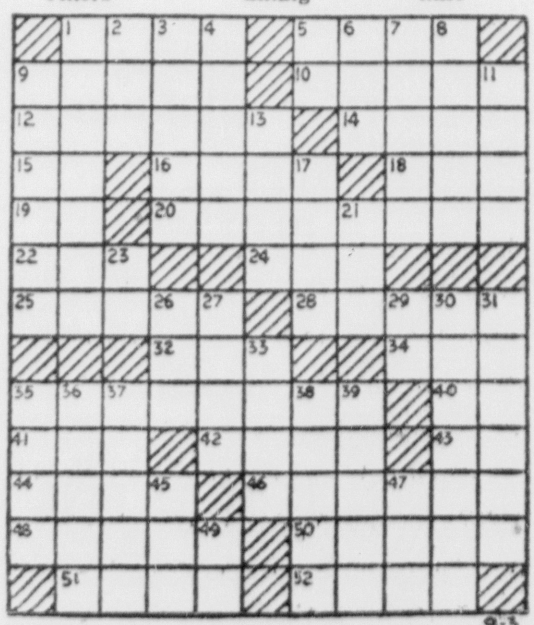

Within days the following took place: seven other important workers left to join Hogan, the price of Motorola stock fell and that of Fairchild rose, and Motorola filed a suit accusing Hogan of violating his obligations to the firm. Motorola sought not only damages against the eight men and their wives, but a prohibition against the use of Motorola trade secrets.

Although Hogan said his lawyers consider the Motorola claim to be without foundation, the very act of filing suit is bound to make some of today's mobile executives hesitant to move, at least as a team.

The first hearing is scheduled for Sept. 26 at Phoenix and will be watched by thousands of employees, executive recruiters and personnel chief. It could be a landmark decision.

Try and Stop Me

IN PEORIA, a distinguished newspaper editor explained why Abe Lincoln, had he lived today, would not have had so much trouble getting a sound education. Because of his height, every basketball coach in the state would be waving a scholarship at him.

In the heyday of his success, the great French novelist Honore de Balzac was indulgently scribbling autographs for admirers at a watering resort when an elderly lady deposited a dog-eared notebook in his lap and said, "Would you glance at one or two of these compositions and tell me if you think their young author has any possibilities?" Balzac indulgently leafed through the notebook, then pontificated, "Madam, I believe in being frank. The lad who perpetrated these pieces is obviously slovenly, unimaginative, and utterly devoid of talent. Train him to be a garbage collector, if you will, but don't, I beg you, encourage him to do any more writing."

"How fascinating," chuckled the elderly lady. "If you will turn to the name on the inside of the cover of this notebook, you will observe it was your very own when you were a little boy."

Restaurant Toots Shor is noted neither for his reticence nor his inability to top an insulting patron. Sports writer Jimmy Cannon left him speechless, however, one day at the Shor establishment when every light in the joint suddenly dimmed. "Justice triumphs at last," crowed Cannon. "They've electrocuted the chef!"

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Families living in northern climates hardly realize that pinworm infections of the intestinal tract of children occur with some frequency. Despite rigid cleanliness in the home and excellent hygiene habits, intestinal parasites or worms do occur in all social levels.

At first, families are embarrassed because they feel that it reflects poorly on the hygiene in the home. It does not. Children will pick up these parasite infections at school, in the playground, and in camps.

The pinworm, or Oxyuris Vermicularis, has no special regard for the social, the intellectual, the economic, or the geographical position of families. Often, the symptoms go unnoticed for a long time because they are so vague. In southern, sub-tropical climates, pinworm infestations are so common that the condition is suspected in every child during a physical examination.

Persistent rectal itching, poor appetite, weakness, intestinal discomfort, cramps and unexplained nausea and vomiting suggest to physicians the possibility that such a parasite exists. The diagnosis is readily confirmed by microscopic examination of the stool.

In order to understand the frequency of this condition, let me show how this disease can be transmitted from one person to another. The eggs of the pinworm hatch and grow in the intestine. Because the worm is so irritating, itching of the rectal area becomes intense. The child then scratches and thus contaminates his own fingers and, when he eats, introduces the egg into his mouth with his food and starts the cycle all over again. It is common for all members of the family to become contaminated. Adults who wash their hands before eating are less likely to become infected.

There are now a number of excellent, safe anti-parasite medicines which effectively destroy the parasite and cure the condition. In order to avoid further contamination, rigid sanitation must be maintained during treatment and even after the condition is thought to be controlled.

Children and adults must wash their hands and fingernails especially thoroughly before each meal. The fingernails should be cut short and scrubbed with a brush after going to the toilet and before eating.

Underclothes should be changed daily and bathing twice a day is important. Each member of the family should have his own towel. The one used for the body should not be the same as the one used for drying the face. Bedclothes should be laundered daily. Children must be discouraged from putting their hands in their mouths. Toys, too, must be cleaned if re-infection is to be avoided.

There is no shame if a member of the family has this condition. As I stated, it occurs on all social levels and energy should be devoted to curing the condition rather than pretending that it does not exist. It is only fair that the parents of other children, who are playmates, should be alerted that pinworms exist and that there may be a need for careful observation.

Don't squeeze a boil or pimple. A wet dressing is better.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Nearly 20,000 Indians are abroad engaged in study, research or training in science. More than half of them are in the United States.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Wouldn't you hate to wear a gas mask as you go about your daily tasks? People may have to do so if the U.S. air pollution worsens, warns Dr. Wilfrid Bach, University of Cincinnati scientist. He estimates the 142 million tons of pollutants put each year into our atmosphere causes an economic loss of $12 billion and that it could be cut two-thirds by an annual expenditure of $4 billion.

Your body is an awesome feat of engineering. The mileage of your blood system alone—60,000—is greater than the U.S. federal highway program. To keep it functioning, your fist-sized heart beats some 2½ billion times in 70 years.

Quotable notables: "Cooking is like love. It should be entered into with abandon or not at all."

—Harriet Van Horne.

Southpaw rodents: About one in 10 human beings are left-

handed, and perhaps more would be if their tendency in childhood weren't curbed by teachers and parents. But a recent study of mice showed that half of them were left-pawed.

Br-r-r: Cryotherapy, treatment with cold, is being used for a widening range of ailments. Corpses have even been frozen in the hope that they can be revived at a later time when science has discovered cures for their fatal diseases. But cryotherapy itself isn't new. Hippocrates, the father of medicine, prescribed applications of ice and snow to check bleeding and reduce pain.

Dental health tip: If you don't spend at least two minutes in brushing your teeth, you're probably not really getting them clean. A survey also found that 80 per cent of toothbrushes in use were too worn to do the job right.

Worth remembering: "The only compliment some husbands pay their wives is to marry them."

—Arnold Glasow.

Prosperity note: Many people in the middle-income brackets now pay more for government than they do for groceries. The Tax Foundation figured that if you earn $12,000 a year and have a wife and two children, you are probably forking out $2,789 for food but $4,080 to support your local, state and federal governments.

Don't let your children abandon hope of a higher education simply because they weren't scholastic standouts in high school. It is more fiction than fact that colleges are much tougher to get into. About seven per cent of the most popular ones are, because they receive about half of all applications. But many others have vacancies and are looking for new students.

It was Charles F. Kettering who observed, "Success is getting what you want; happiness is wanting what you get."

Daley Was Scared Stiff

CHICAGO —The music goes round and round, and so do the arguments about "security" in this, the big "law and order" year.

Who was to blame for the "overkill" practiced by Mayor Daley's police to keep the yuppies from marching to the Democratic Convention Hall through lower class white districts where the American (I.E., the "law and order") flag was displayed in practically every house? Was it defective dog training? Or was it an inevitable reaction to an insidious slow-motion provocation by the new left? The chicken-and-egg conundrum is as nothing when compared to this one.

The truth would seem to be that an overkill in threats is followed by an overkill in defense preparations, which together spell dynamite. Those of us who came to Chicago from New York had been hearing of the new left plans to create a convention chaos ever since the yippie hoodlums tore the hands off the clock in Grand Central Terminal last spring. Mayor Daley had these reports, and when new left leader Tom Hayden, who likes to talk about the necessity of "tactics of prolonged direct action to put heat on government," hove into town the jaws were clenched at city hall.

One way of judging the repressive measures which blocked the new left kids from marching out of Grant Park on Michigan Avenue toward the south and west sides, where there is always plenty of ignitable social tinder, is to place what happened alongside of what might have come to pass if the police had been permissive. The leaders of the south side black population had resolved to cause Mayor Daley no trouble, lest they be blamed for a debacle that would put Richard Nixon — or even George Wallace — in the White House. And Mayor Daley's own people, who spruced up their houses with new paint along the streets to the convention hall out near the stockyards, were well in hand, too. But if the yuppies had appeared yelling revolution in the negro slums or "down with the law and order bag" among the various ethnic groups who think primarily in terms of defending their own hard-won property, the head-cracking and the tear-gassing that took place in front of the Conrad Hilton Hotel would have been multiplied to the ninth degree.

In view of the possibilities — nay, the probabilities — it was a little ungracious of Connecticut Senator Abe Ribicoff to stand up and lecture Mayor Daley and the Illinois delegation when he should have been tending to the business of nominating Senator McGovern of South Dakota. And it was not exactly called for when Fran Mankiewicz, press secretary to the late Robert Kennedy, used his rostrum time for seconding McGovern to condemn the "nightsticks and the tear gas, and the mindless brutality we have seen on our television screens tonight."

This sort of stuff is holier-than-thou, a species of verbal overkill in itself. Looking almost apologetic, Mayor Daley yelled to Ribicoff to go home. He should have used a softer injunction, the Biblical one of "Let Him who is Without Sin Cast the First Stone." For it was just a year ago that the police of New Haven, Connecticut, in Ribicoff's own home state, used mace in fairly massive doses to check what threatened to become a small-scale Detroit or Newark. "Over-reaction" is not peculiar to Chicago.

The case of Frank Mankiewicz is another puzzle. For surely it was the possibility of more political assassinations that caused Mayor Daley to take such massive precautions to seal the convention amphitheatre at Chicago against the threat of possible violence. If someone had taken the precaution to frisk Sirhan Sirhan at the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles, Bobby Kennedy would have been alive. And if there had been better precautions in Dallas, Jack Kennedy might have been the outgoing president this year, not Lyndon Johnson. If anyone in the world should be in a position to understand Mayor Daley's psychology, it should be Frank Mankiewicz and all the other Kennedys.

This is not to justify indiscriminate head-cracking. It is only to make the point that nobody has much right to be smug about "Fortress Chicago." Between the threats of the new left to pour thousands of disorderly kids into Chicago and the memory of two murdered Kennedys, the tear gas, and the mindless brutality we have seen on our

Saigon Attacked - - By Miniskirts

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnam's conservative elders are shocked. Saigon's intellectual community is in an uproar.

Despite the war, the rain and the weight of tradition, the "minijupe"—known most often as the miniskirt—has arrived.

Saigon has spawned a generation of teenyboppers who cavort on the rain-splashed city streets in mod attire. They add brilliant splashes of color to the drab, war-tinted thoroughfares.

But most Vietnamese males don't seem to approve. Expressing an Oriental distaste for exhibitionism, particularly when the prying eyes of foreigners are around, one writer to a Saigon newspaper said: "These children, these flowers would wilt without their marijuana. They are obscene."

Like many others, he yearns for the continued use of the ao dai, Vietnam's traditional garb that girls strolled in along the once-graceful French boulevards of Saigon and Hanoi. A long white or flowered silk skirt slit at each side revealed loose white silk trousers and met, at a tiny waist, a bodice with a high collar and long sleeves.

Nowadays, the young Vietnamese girl may have thoughts tied up her calves, a tiny miniskirt hugged to her thighs with a low-slung leather belt, topped off by a tight sweater.

She will splash through the puddles on Tu Do St., tilting her heels at the U.S. military policemen inside the barbed wire of American billets, or giggling from a motorcycle as she roars past in traffic, the flash of a thigh visible.

The ao dai is still worn in Vietnam, particularly in the countryside, where even in the midst of war the village girls somehow manage to keep a while silk dress clean and pressed.

In Saigon, too, a girl in a miniskirt can be seen sometimes walking beside her elder sister wearing the traditional garment.

The teenyboppers sometimes have to bear the ribaldry of Vietnamese soldiers on leave. "Chiu chiu?" they will shout at the girls. "Are you ready to play?" The girls, with a toss of their sometimes thigh length hair, flounce by.

Saigon newspapers have been taking notice of the miniskirted girls and attribute the fashion to French fashion magazines available on the local market.

One newspaper said: "They are our hippies, wearing dog

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Skies were clear over most of Ohio during the night but clouds moved into the northwestern counties early this morning and by daybreak had spread over most of Northern Ohio. A few showers developed in these sections and a thundershower was reported at Toledo.

A weak warm front will drift northeastward across Lake Erie today, with clearing skies following its passage.

An extensive low pressure system over the Plains state will be pushing eastward, spreading more showers and thundershowers into Ohio Wednesday with temperatures holding a little above normal.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight, lows upper 50s northeast to mid 60s southwest. Variable cloudiness and warmer with scattered showers and thundershowers Wednesday.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST, CENTRAL OHIO — Increasing cloudiness with little temperature change tonight, lows upper 50s and low 60s. Variable cloudiness and warm with scattered showers and thundershowers Wednesday.

Temperatures before dawn were in the 60s in most northern areas and generally in the 70s across the southern half of the country.

Showers Mar Weather Scene

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant late summer weather covered much of the nation today, marred by only widely scattered showers and thundershowers.

Cooler air tumbling out of the Rockies triggered heavy storms in portions of the northern plains. A tornado was sighted over southeastern South Dakota near Yankton, but there were no reports of damage or injuries.

Thundershowers also dampened scattered sections from the southern Great Lakes to the Middle Atlantic Coast. Isolated showers soaked parts of Texas and northern California.

Temperatures before dawn were in the 60s in most northern areas and generally in the 70s across the southern half of the country.

Placards Poke Fun at Politicos

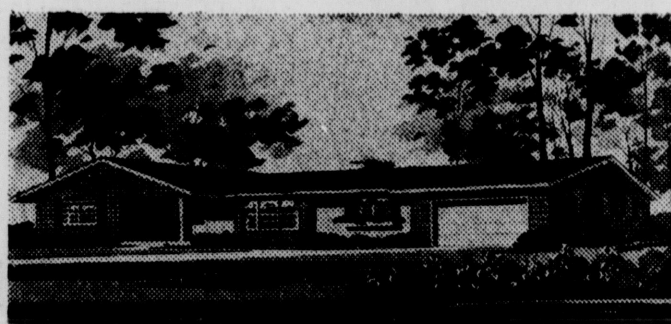

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A traditional "historical-hysterical parade" poking fun at current news figures, climaxed the 25th annual Santa Fe Fiesta Monday.

One satirical float that wound through the ancient city's narrow downtown streets proclaimed, "Nixon's The One." But there was a catch to the endorsement.

One of the teeth in a huge poster of the Republican presidential nominee was blacked out, and a man walked behind the float carrying a sign which read, "Humphrey's the other one."

Czech Invasion Personal Win For Polish Chief

By MARTIN ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer

WARSAW (AP) — The occupation of Czechoslovakia has given Wladyslaw Gomulka a boost against a challenge to his leadership of the Polish Communist party, observers in Warsaw believe.

These observers regard the checking of the liberalization drive in Prague as a personal victory for Gomulka that has strengthened his position in the unresolved power struggle with deputy Politburo member Mieczyslaw Moczar, the former interior minister and secret police chief.

Moczar has been considered a rival of Gomulka for several years, using his influence as head of an organization of wartime partisans and the police as his platform of operation. One technique has been to replace men in key positions with persons loyal to him.

He is believed to have been one of the prime forces behind the purge campaign last spring, following student demonstrations and rioting, which ousted Jews, intellectuals, liberals and former Stalinists from party ranks and government jobs.

During the summer there was considerable speculation that Gomulka's days in power were numbered. There were those who said the quadrennial party congress in November would depose him although he would retain some figurehead position.

Others said he would last six months after the congress or even two years.

But Gomulka's alignment of Poland with the hard-line stance of the Soviet Union, both ideologically and militarily, against the Czechoslovak reforms has made him a much harder man to budge.

Observers consider him certain of Moscow's support. He has wholeheartedly backed the Soviet campaign for a Communist unity conference. He has backed Soviet condemnation of Israel and now he has committed an estimated 45,000 troops to the joint military occupation in Czechoslovakia.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia Democrats have divergent views on their party as a result of the Democratic National Convention, which threw out half its regular delegation because of its racial makeup. For example:

"Right now, the Georgia Democratic party is the underdog of all underdogs. It's got a long way to go. I think it will survive, but things may have to get worse before they get better," said former Gov. Carl E. Sanders.

"The Georgia party is stronger than ever. I don't see what happened at the convention affecting the structure of the state party at all," said James Gray, state party chairman.

"I would hope we could rebuild the Democratic party so it has room for all groups, liberals and conservatives," said State Rep. Julian Bond.

The convention rejected half the regular delegation and seated half of a challenge group led by Bond—a move which has driven some conservatives out of the party, left most of the moderates angry and resentful, and created a polarization of party factions.

The effects of the credentials committee's action, which state party officials contend was politically motivated and resulted from a "double cross" by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's forces, already are being felt.

Gray, who under party rules must certify all Democratic candidates, says he will make a determined attempt to keep electors for the national party nominees off the Georgia ballot.

"I'm not going to certify the national party electors," he said. "I'm going to call a meeting of the state executive committee and try to put up our own electors under the Democratic emblem."

presidential victory in Georgia since Reconstruction.

Gray's plan to keep the national nominees off the Georgia ballot already has touched off what some observers inside the party describe as the beginning of bitter infighting on whether to turn away from the national party.

Saigon Attacked - - By Miniskirts

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Vietnam's conservative elders are shocked. Saigon's intellectual community is in an uproar.
Despite the war, the rain and the weight of tradition, the "minijs"—known most other places as the miniskirt—has arrived.
Saigon has spawned a generation of teenyboppers who cavort on the rain-spashed city streets in mod attire. They add brilliant splashes of color to the drab, war-tinted thoroughfares.
But most Vietnamese males don't seem to approve. Expressing an Oriental distaste for exhibitionism, particularly when the prying eyes of foreigners are around, one writer to a Saigon newspaper said: "These children, these flowers would wilt without their marijuana. They are obscene."
Like many others, he yearns for the continued use of the ao dai, Vietnam's traditional garb that girls strolled in along the once-graceful French boulevards of Saigon and Hanoi. A long white or flowered silk skirt slit at each side revealed loose white silk trousers and met, at a tiny waist, a bodice with a high collar and long sleeves.

Nowadays, the young Vietnamese girl may have thongs tied up her calves, a tiny mini-skirt hugged to her thighs with a low-slung leather belt, topped off by a tight sweater.

She will splash through the puddles on Tu Do St., tilting her heels at the U.S. military policemen inside the barbed wire of American billets, or giggling from a motorcycle as she roars past in traffic, the flash of a thigh visible.
The ao dai is still worn in Vietnam, particularly in the countryside, where even in the midst of war the village girls somehow manage to keep a while silk dress clean and pressed.
In Saigon, too, a girl in a miniskirt can be seen sometimes walking beside her elder sister wearing the traditional garment.
The teenyboppers sometimes have to bear the rebuff of Vietnamese soldiers on leave. "Chiu chiu?" they will shout at the girls. "Are you ready to play?" The girls, with a toss of their sometimes thigh length hair, flounce by.
Saigon newspapers have been taking notice of the miniskirted girls and attribute the fashion to French fashion magazines available on the local market.
One newspaper said: "They are our hippies, wearing dog chains, pensive before their black coffee cups, wreathed in the sheath of lassitude that marijuana smoking brings."

A random survey of the miniskirts on an average Saigon street shows, however, that rather than being pot-smoking free lovers, the average Vietnamese teenybopper is just trying to look like Brigitte Bardot or Catherine Deneuve.
The traditional attitude to romance still survives. Daddy expects her home before curfew, and she is.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:
Skies were clear over most of Ohio during the night but clouds moved into the northwestern counties early this morning and by daybreak had spread over most of Northern Ohio. A few showers developed in these sections and a thundershower was reported at Toledo.
A weak warm front will drift northeastward across Lake Erie today, with clearing skies following its passage.
An extensive low pressure system over the Plains state will be pushing eastward, spreading more showers and thundershowers into Ohio Wednesday with temperatures holding a little above normal.

FORECASTS
OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight, lows upper 50s northeast to mid 60s southwest. Variable cloudiness and warmer with scattered showers and thundershowers Wednesday.
SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST, CENTRAL OHIO — Increasing cloudiness with little temperature change tonight, lows upper 50s and low 60s. Variable cloudiness and warm with scattered showers and thundershowers Wednesday.

Showers Mar Weather Scene

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and pleasant late - summer weather covered much of the nation today, marred by only widely scattered showers and thundershowers.
Cooler air tumbling out of the Rockies triggered heavy storms in portions of the northern plains. A tornado was sighted over southeastern South Dakota near Yankton, but there were no reports of damage or injuries.
Thundershowers also dampened scattered sections from the southern Great Lakes to the Middle Atlantic Coast. Isolated showers soaked parts of Texas and northern California.
Temperatures before dawn were in the 60s in most northern areas and generally in the 70s across the southern half of the country.

Placards Poke Fun at Politicos

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A traditional "historical-hysterical parade" poking fun at current news figures, climaxed the 256th annual Santa Fe Fiesta Monday.
One satirical float that wound through the ancient city's narrow downtown streets proclaimed, "Nixon's The One." But there was a catch to the endorsement.
One of the teeth in a huge poster of the Republican presidential nominee was blacked out, and a man walked behind the float carrying a sign which read, "Humphrey's the other one."

See Gomulka Strengthened By Russ Move

Czech Invasion Personal Win For Polish Chief
By MARTIN ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer
WARSAW (AP) — The occupation of Czechoslovakia has given Wladyslaw Gomulka a boost against a challenge to his leadership of the Polish Communist party, observers in Warsaw believe.
These observers regard the checking of the liberalization drive in Prague as a personal victory for Gomulka that has strengthened his position in the unresolved power struggle with deputy Politburo member Mieczyslaw Moczar, the former interior minister and secret police chief.
Moczar has been considered a rival of Gomulka for several years, using his influence as head of an organization of wartime partisans and the police as his platform of operation. One technique has been to replace men in key positions with persons loyal to him.
He is believed to have been one of the prime forces behind the purge campaign last spring, following student demonstrations and rioting, which ousted Jews, intellectuals, liberals and former Stalinists from party ranks and government jobs.
During the summer there was considerable speculation that Gomulka's days in power were numbered. There were those who said the quadrennial party congress in November would depose him although he would retain some figurehead position. Others said he would last six months after the congress or even two years.
But Gomulka's alignment of Poland with the hard-line stance of the Soviet Union, both ideologically and militarily, against the Czechoslovak reforms has made him a much harder man to budge.
Observers consider him certain of Moscow's support. He has wholeheartedly backed the Soviet campaign for a Communist unity conference. He has backed Soviet condemnation of Israel and now he has committed an estimated 45,000 troops to the joint military occupation in Czechoslovakia.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati radio and television personality Bill Dawes, 58, died Monday at Bethesda Hospital. He had been in ill health for several weeks.
He was radio program director of WCPO-TV and had been a disc jockey until 1952 when he was named station director.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charges were expected to be filed today against some of the 53 motorcycle gang members who were arrested in connection with the beating early Sunday of off-duty patrolman Robert Stopek.
The 29-year-old Stopek suffered facial injuries in the alleged assault at a southeastern Cleveland intersection where he was stopped for a traffic signal. His wife, who was with him, was not injured.
Stopek shot and wounded one of the cyclists and struck another with his car. He said the youths who attacked him were in a car that pulled alongside him. Most of those picked up and held by police were attending a rally nearby.
The patrolman said one of the motorcycle club members cursed him. Club members told police it was Stopek who touched off the incident by swearing at them.

Georgia Democrats Split By Convention Infighting

By TED SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia Democrats have divergent views on their party as a result of the Democratic National Convention, which threw out half its regular delegation because of its racial makeup. For example:
"Right now, the Georgia Democratic party is the underdog of all underdogs. It's got a long way to go. I think it will survive, but things may have to get worse before they get better," said former Gov. Carl E. Sanders.
"The Georgia party is stronger than ever. I don't see what happened at the convention affecting the structure of the state party at all," said James Gray, state party chairman.
"I would hope we could rebuild the Democratic party so it has room for all groups, liberals and conservatives," said State Rep. Julian Bond.
The convention rejected half the regular delegation and seated half of a challenge group led by Bond—a move which has driven some conservatives out of the party, left most of the moderates angry and resentful, and created a polarization of party factions.
The effects of the credentials committee's action, which state party officials contend was politically motivated and resulted from a "double cross" by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's forces, already are being felt.
Gray, who under party rules must certify all Democratic candidates, says he will make a determined attempt to keep electors for the national party nominees off the Georgia ballot.
"I'm not going to certify the national party electors," he said. "I'm going to call a meeting of the state executive committee and try to put up our own electors under the Democratic emblem."

"Now that the convention is over, they (national party leaders) have got to come back and do business with us," said Gray, who headed the Georgia Democrats for Goldwater in 1964. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, carried the state in the first GOP presidential victory in Georgia since Reconstruction.

Gray's plan to keep the national nominees off the Georgia ballot already has touched off what some observers inside the party describe as the beginning of bitter infighting on whether to turn away from the national party.

Miss Beth Patterson
Weds Richard DeLong

MRS. RICHARD WAYNE DELONG

Miss Beth Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Patterson of Adelphi, became the bride of Richard Wayne DeLong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. DeLong of Kingston in a double ring ceremony 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening, Aug. 31. The Rev. Harry Hill officiated at the rites held in the Hill Gardens in Kingston.

Miss Sharon Holschuh of Chillicothe was organist and accompanied Miss Sherry Knisley of Kingston, who sang "More," "Wedding Prayer," "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory silk organza with Alencon lace fashioned in the A-line silhouette. The gown featured a bateau neckline and short sleeves of Alencon lace, which also banded the hemline. The detachable cathedral length train of English net was accented with motifs of lace. A lace Dior bow held her veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart rose buds, pale anemones and stephanotis arranged in ivy.

Miss Marcia Patterson of Columbus was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Harold Albert of Columbus was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Liston of Columbus, Miss Phyllis Hinaman of Marion, Miss Elisa Evans of Circleville and Miss Pamela Humphrey of Urbana. Their princess style blue linen gowns were accented with a lace neckline. Blue linen Dior bows held floor length veils and they carried yellow rosebuds and daisies arranged in ivy. Beth Ann Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Spangler of Circleville was flower girl. Her ensemble resembled the honor attendants and she carried a basket of daisies and roses.

Jack Patterson, brother of the bride served as best man. Ushers were Fred Jones of Washington C.H., Fred Duvé of Chillicothe, Thomas Patterson of Adelphi, Tim Hartsock of Chillicothe and David Lauer of Indiana. The groom's nephew, Freddie Jones, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose a yellow silk dress and yellow accessories. The mother of the groom selected a blue linen dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

The reception immediately followed the ceremony in the garden. The five tiered cake was adorned with daisies, yellow rose buds and ivy. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Jones and Mrs. Fred Duvé, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Michael Search, Miss Cheryl Shewalter, Miss Dianna Seymour, Miss Carol Birch, Miss Karen Collins, Mrs. Dwight Davis, and Mrs. Ned Cochran. Miss Anita Cook presided at the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the couple will reside at 1841D Kenny Road, Columbus. The new Mrs. DeLong will be a senior in the college of education at Ohio State University and Mr. DeLong, also a senior, plans to attend law school after graduation.

Margaret Jennifer Schuer
Marries Jeffery Lee Hawk

MRS. JEFFERY LEE HAWK

Vases of white gladioli, pompon mums and carnations, decorated the altar of St. Joseph Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Margaret Jennifer Schuer and Jeffery Lee Hawk. The Rt. Rev. Robert Schuer, uncle of the bride, officiated at the Nuptial Mass 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 31.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schuer, 218 Brinks Drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Hawk of Chillicothe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of white lace with scalloped neckline, full length sleeves, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with graduated tiers of lace flowing down the front. The detachable chapel length train of lace fastened at the shoulders. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a cluster of petals encrusted with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, pompons and lilies-of-the-valley and white satin streamers.

Miss Joan Marzluf, maid of honor, was attired in a formal length gown of rose shantung silk. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, pompons and lilies of the valley. Miss Barbara Schuer, Miss Theresa Schuer and Miss Gloria Hawk bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the maid of honor in pink and carried similar bouquets.

Serving as best man was Stephen Metzger, and seating the guests were James Houser, Robert Baker and Paul Breen. Joseph Schuer, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Schuer wore a turquoise sheath dress and Mrs. Hawk was attired in a silver, princess line dress. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Rita Schuer, Miss Mary Schuer, Miss Julie Marzluf and Mrs. Ronald Tussing.

For a wedding trip, in Southern Ohio, the bride wore a pink and white A-line dress with pink accessories. The bride is a graduate of Ohio Dominican College, Columbus, and will be employed as a junior high school teacher in the Talawanda School District, Oxford.

Mr. Hawk a graduate of John Carroll University, Cleveland, is doing graduate work at Miami University in Oxford, where the couple will reside.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television viewers with sharp eyes for details can sometimes foretell the twists of plots from the way the series, sets—even the players—are dressed.

If, for instance, one sees a plane in flight, or when the hero is shown boarding or leaving a commercial flight, it is likely that somewhere in the background will be the name or insignia of an airline.

Thus, if there is visible on the screen some real carrier's identification, it is practically certain that the plane will be involved in no mishaps—not even encounter mild air turbulence. Or that there will be any active skulduggery aboard, like madmen holding the passengers in terror or stealing secret papers from trussed up couriers.

Airlines are sensitive about such things, feeling that they already have enough problems with passengers who fly with clenched fists.

So when the viewer sees a fictitious name on the side of a plane, there is a good chance some exciting action will take place in transit.

One action series has a hero who almost weekly takes a plane for some place or another to save the good side. A permanent set in the series, a Hollywood studio, consists of a complete reproduction of a passenger section of a plane, with one side cut away so the cameras may shoot the interior. The initials of a widely advertised international carrier are all over the place—on the back of every seat, on the overhead racks, on the sides of the plane.

All, however, are easily removed—just in case something nasty is going to happen aloft.

Auto manufacturers are sensitive, too. Heavy advertisers in television, they dislike programs using auto accidents in plots. Agents of "The FBI" always tool around in the latest models of their automobile sponsor's product. And while it is an action-loaded series, there are a minimum of stories in which that speeding car caroms off a mountain road or smashes into a tree.

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS wound up its ambitious series of seven programs, "Of Black America," with a massive dose of statistics—impressive, dimming, hopeful and sometimes overwhelming.

Television is partial to polls and surveys and CBS in particular has been fiddling around for several seasons trying to find a way to handle percentages, majorities and minorities in some illuminating visual manner. One try was its series of do-it-yourself quizzes, in which the viewer scored himself on the basis of a poll.

While it has not yet found a really satisfactory method, a poll on the nation's attitudes on what narrator Charles Kuralt called its "two greatest fears, white racism and black extremists" was a logical and precise means of winding up the series.

The poll, by an independent organization, was conducted among 1,000 persons in May and June.

Impressive were the findings that 9 of 10 Negroes disapprove of violence.

Dismaying were statistics showing one-third of whites sampled were, to some degree, racists—projected by Kuralt and his co-narrator, Hal Walker, to add up to between 35 million 40 million.

Hopeful were what the narrators called "areas of commonality"—agreement that overcrowding and resentment were the causes of the disturbances; that in time racial equality will be a reality. And also hopeful was the report that only a small minority of Negroes approve the extreme positions—five percent, for instance, in the case of Rap Brown.

Producers of the hour program did the only thing they could to dress up the visual proceedings surrounding the load of numbers and percentages. They put a camera on some of the persons polled and let them present their viewpoints—from extremists on both sides to the sympathetic middle-of-the-road-ers.

It helped, but not enough. Television, by its very nature, has trouble handling statistics, whether it is reporting activity on the New York Stock Exchange or presenting the results of a poll. Such material is much easier handled on the printed page.

Generally, the series has been instructive, enlightening and purposeful. CBS can be proud of its thoughtful approach to a tough subject.

With Labor Day weekend behind, the summer-blooming programs will start disappearing fast. "Showcase '68" on NBC will have its grand finale tonight. Later in the evening CBS will resume with its weekly actuality shows—an hour constructed from short and generally amusing features taped by Charles Kuralt and a camera crew as they wandered around the nation interviewing people and visiting off-beat spots. All portions were used earlier on Walter Cronkite's news program, and most of them are well worth a second look.

Gilligan, Saxbe Speak

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — Both candidates for U.S. senator from Ohio—Democrat John J. Gilligan and Republican William B. Saxbe—were on hand for a Labor Day outing in Barberton Monday.

Gilligan warned of the threat of third-party presidential candidate George Wallace, the former Alabama governor.

"A great deal of people who believe in his (Wallace's) rather simple view of government are willing to go all out and work for him," Gilligan declared. "They are true believers and unless the Republican and Democratic party workers work as hard he is going to shock an awful lot of people on election day."

Saxbe praised the people "who work in their shirt sleeves" and said Ohio has an abundance of skilled workers who can do a job and do it well.

PONY EXPRESS — Newsboy Mike Glazer, 13, rides his pony, Lightning, to deliver newspapers in Salinas, Calif.

Boy Scout Saves Nephew from Bear

LUTSEN, Minn. (AP) — A 14-year-old Boy Scout from Aurora, Ill., remembered a story in a book which said not to excite bears, so he grabbed his 4-year-old nephew and sat motionless—even when the bear pawed his back.

Finally the animal sauntered off. Roger Barton Jr. was playing on the shore of Rice Lake in northeastern Minnesota with his nephew, John Frantz, of Burbank, Calif., when they encountered the bear recently.

Young Barton was taken to a hospital and given a tetanus shot. He had some scratches on his back.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

People, Not Names, Have Reputation

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Mac, a divorced man, for about 2 years and he wants to marry me. I think the world of him, but he has the world's worst children. They are two boys, 15 and 17. Right now they are sitting in the city jail. They have been in trouble with the law more times than I can count. Believe me, the way they turned out wasn't his fault. He tried to raise them right but their mother let them run wild.

My question: I work for the city and if I marry this man I will naturally have to take his name. Well, his sons have had their names in the paper so much that the name is ruined and I am ashamed of it. Maybe I'm wrong to feel this way, but I have to look out for myself. Any suggestions?

UP A TREE
DEAR UP: Discuss it with Mac. He may not feel the same as you about it. A man (or boy) can "ruin" only his OWN reputation, and while he may have sullied the name he bears, right-thinking people don't condemn the whole family for the offenses of one.

DEAR ABBY: I've been trying to disregard this problem for some time, but it keeps nagging at me, so please print your answer soon.

Three years ago, a neighbor boy, who was 10 at the time, tried to molest our little 4-year-old daughter. Luckily it turned out to be nothing serious. However, other neighbors have told me that this boy has since been in the same kind of trouble with other young children. The boy is 13 now, and he has been hanging around the home of some new neighbors who have a 4-year-old boy. I keep wondering if I should tell this little boy's mother about our experience. My husband says NO, I shouldn't get involved.

It worries me, Abby. If something happened to that little 4-year-old kid I'd feel responsible. What should I do?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: If the parents of the 13-year-old boy appear to be intelligent, responsible people, tell them to keep their eye on their son for recurring signs of his old trouble. If they don't, tip off the new neighbors. You are already morally involved.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 60, married 37 years, no children and I have never written to a columnist before, but we had an experience I think should be published.

Saturday our lawn needed mowing, the garage needed cleaning, and I wanted to watch the ball game.

My wife saw four teenage boys walking aimlessly past our house, so she called to them, told them our lawn needed mowing, and asked if they were interested in earning a little money. They almost mobbed her. One grabbed the mower, the other the rake, another the grass shears. The fourth went around the house, found the hose, washed down the garage and driveway, swept out the excess water, coiled the hose neatly, and put it back where he found it. Then he started pulling weeds.

There was no arguing or

First Banc Group Declares Dividend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the First Banc Group of Ohio, Inc., announced today that formation of the group had been completed and a 50 cents per share cash dividend declared.

The dividend, said John J. McCoy, was due to favorable earnings by the two constituent banks, the City National Bank and Trust Co. of Columbus and the Farmers Savings and Trust Co. of Mansfield.

bickering. They rotated all the jobs and when they were finished, our lawn looked the best ever.

My point is this: If more people would hire these boys to do odd jobs, and give them a chance to earn a little pocket money, it would give them a little confidence and dignity. I think you would then see a sharp decline in juvenile delinquency and vandalism. There are always little jobs they can do and it wouldn't cost much. Just give the kids a chance to prove themselves, and you will be pleasantly surprised.

How to bake Hawaiian cake

CREAMY HAWAIIAN CAKE

2 cups cake flour
1 1/2 cup sugar
3 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup soft shortening

3/4 cup milk
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup milk
2 egg yolks—unbeaten
1 whole egg—unbeaten

1. Generously grease and flour two 8-inch round cake pans.
2. Sift together cake flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt.
3. Add soft shortening, 3/4 cup milk, almond extract, and vanilla; beat two minutes.
4. Add remaining 1/2 cup milk, egg yolk and whole egg.
5. Pour into prepared pans; bake in GAS oven at 350°F. for 30 to 35 minutes; cool.
6. Fill cool layers with Pineapple Filling (see recipe below); spread top layer of cake with about 1/2 cup Pineapple Filling, leaving 1 1/2 inch border.
7. Frost cake with sweetened whipped cream or whipped dessert topping.

The boy is 13 now, and he has been hanging around the home of some new neighbors who have a 4-year-old boy. I keep wondering if I should tell this little boy's mother about our experience. My husband says NO, I shouldn't get involved.

It worries me, Abby. If something happened to that little 4-year-old kid I'd feel responsible. What should I do?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: If the parents of the 13-year-old boy appear to be intelligent, responsible people, tell them to keep their eye on their son for recurring signs of his old trouble. If they don't, tip off the new neighbors. You are already morally involved.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 60, married 37 years, no children and I have never written to a columnist before, but we had an experience I think should be published.

Saturday our lawn needed mowing, the garage needed cleaning, and I wanted to watch the ball game.

My wife saw four teenage boys walking aimlessly past our house, so she called to them, told them our lawn needed mowing, and asked if they were interested in earning a little money. They almost mobbed her. One grabbed the mower, the other the rake, another the grass shears. The fourth went around the house, found the hose, washed down the garage and driveway, swept out the excess water, coiled the hose neatly, and put it back where he found it. Then he started pulling weeds.

There was no arguing or

First Banc Group Declares Dividend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the First Banc Group of Ohio, Inc., announced today that formation of the group had been completed and a 50 cents per share cash dividend declared.

The dividend, said John J. McCoy, was due to favorable earnings by the two constituent banks, the City National Bank and Trust Co. of Columbus and the Farmers Savings and Trust Co. of Mansfield.

bickering. They rotated all the jobs and when they were finished, our lawn looked the best ever.

My point is this: If more people would hire these boys to do odd jobs, and give them a chance to earn a little pocket money, it would give them a little confidence and dignity. I think you would then see a sharp decline in juvenile delinquency and vandalism. There are always little jobs they can do and it wouldn't cost much. Just give the kids a chance to prove themselves, and you will be pleasantly surprised.

How to bake Hawaiian cake

CREAMY HAWAIIAN CAKE

2 cups cake flour
1 1/2 cup sugar
3 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup soft shortening

2/3 cup milk
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup milk
2 egg yolks—unbeaten
1 whole egg—unbeaten

PINEAPPLE FILLING

1/2 cup sugar
3 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
3/4 cup pineapple juice

1 cup crushed pineapple, well drained
1 Tbsp. butter
1 tsp. almond extract

1. Generously grease and flour two 8-inch round cake pans.
2. Sift together cake flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt.
3. Add soft shortening, 2/3 cup milk, almond extract, and vanilla; beat two minutes.
4. Add remaining 1/2 cup milk, egg yolk and whole egg.
5. Pour into prepared pans; bake in GAS oven at 350°F. for 30 to 35 minutes; cool.
6. Fill cool layers with Pineapple Filling (see recipe below); spread top layer of cake with about 1/2 cup Pineapple Filling, leaving 1 1/2 inch border.
7. Frost cake with sweetened whipped cream or whipped dessert topping.

1. In saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt; gradually stir in pineapple juice and crushed pineapple.

2. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; boil one minute; turn off flame; stir in butter and almond extract; cool thoroughly.

Bruce Helwagen Wins Thrilling PCC Championship

FINAL SHOT — Bruce Helwagen (center) marks his ball just before making his final putt of the Pickaway Country Club men's championship. At the left is his brother, Steve, runnerup in the event.

IN ABSENTIA — Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr., (left) mother of Pickaway Ladies champion, Marcia Brehmer, accepts the silver tea service for her daughter, during Monday's presentation. Miss Brehmer is a student at Miami University and had returned to college before the presentation.

Bruce Helwagen won his fourth Pickaway Country Club golf championship Labor Day by defeating his brother, Steve, one-up in the 36 hole finale.

Marcia Brehmer successfully defended her ladies' title, downing Erma Hedges, a past champion, 4 and 3. Other winners in the annual tournament at the country club were: first flight, Dick Clifton, 2 and 1, over Bob McKelvey, second flight, Luther Ferrell, 3 and 2 over Carl Heffelfinger; third flight, Mike Harrison, 6 and 4 over Jim Rae; fourth flight, Lou Marcy, 2 up over Charles Smith.

Bruce Helwagen won his fourth championship in a pressure packed finish over the par 36 nine hole country club course.

The two brothers finished the first nine even, both carding one-over par 37s.

BRUCE gained a hole on 12, shooting a par while Steve was bogeying the hole. The younger of the two brothers stayed ahead until 15 when Steve evened things with a birdie while Bruce parred the hole.

On 17, Bruce shot a birdie to regain the lead. Steve bogied the 18th to give his brother a two stroke lead when they Bruce got his chance on the final hole when Steve put his second shot out of bounds in the ditch to the right-rear of the green.

Bruce's shot was just to the left of the green. He chipped on and one-putted to par the hole.

Steve finished with a 75-74-149. Bruce shot a 73-75-148.

Golf awards were presented following the tournament in both ladies and men's divisions.

For the second straight year, Marcia Brehmer had to leave following her match and was not present for the presentation of trophies.

★ ★ First County Amateur Golf Tourney Set

Plans were announced today for the first annual Pickaway County Open golf tournament to be held later this month at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links and Pickaway Country Club.

The 36-hole medal tournament is open to all male amateur members of either club and all male residents of the county. The first 18 holes will be played at Upper Lansdowne Sept. 28 and the final set at PCC on Sept. 29.

Thirty-six entry blanks are available at each club. If the entries are not used up at one club, they will be available at entries in the tournament.

Trophies will be awarded to players in addition to the top ten low gross scores. Handicaps will stand as of the entry date for club members or for 18-hole qualifications for non-members.

Mud Hens, Jets Win Twinbills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo and Columbus both scored doubleheader victories Monday night in the hot International League pennant race.

Toledo, winner over Buffalo, 3-2 and 11-0, now holds a 1 1/2-game edge over Columbus with six days left in the season. The Jets downed Richmond 3-2 and 4-2. In other games, Jacksonville beat Louisville 1-0 and 3-2, while Rochester split with Syracuse, losing 3-0 and winning 5-4.

Ike Brown's homer broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning to give the Mud Hens a first game victory. Rooker fanned 14 batters. The Hens scored eight runs in the second inning of the nightcap as pitcher Fred Scherman breezed to a six-hit victory. The Columbus Jets won with last-inning rallies, giving lefty Dave Roberts his 17th victory.

Bil Freehan and Frank Robinson fired the shots heard 'round the upper reaches of the American League, but the underworld quivered from the restless rumblings of a gentle giant.

While 10th inning home runs by Detroit's Freehan and Baltimore's Robinson preserved the status quo in the pennant race Monday, towering Frank Howard went on a six-hit spree that put him back in the Triple Crown picture and led the lowly Washington Senators to their first doubleheader sweep of the season.

Freehan hit his 21st homer with two out in the 10th, giving the first place Tigers a 4-3 nod over Oakland after the Athletics took the doubleheader opener 4-0 behind Jim Nash's four-hitter.

Robinson's 14th homer, a one-out shot in the 10th, sent the runner-up Orioles past New York 4-3 for a split of their twin bill. The Yankees won the first game 4-2 with a four-run third inning flurry.

The divided doubleheaders left Detroit seven games ahead of the Orioles in the September stretch race.

Howard, the major league home run leader with 39, boosted his batting average eight points to .283 by spraying four singles, a double and a triple around D.C. Stadium as the last-place Senators trimmed the Chicago White Sox 1-0 and 11-3.

The 6-foot-7 slugger drove in two runs for a season total of 98, four less than league RBI leader Ken Harrelson of Boston. He trails Minnesota's Tony Oliva by six points in the batting race.

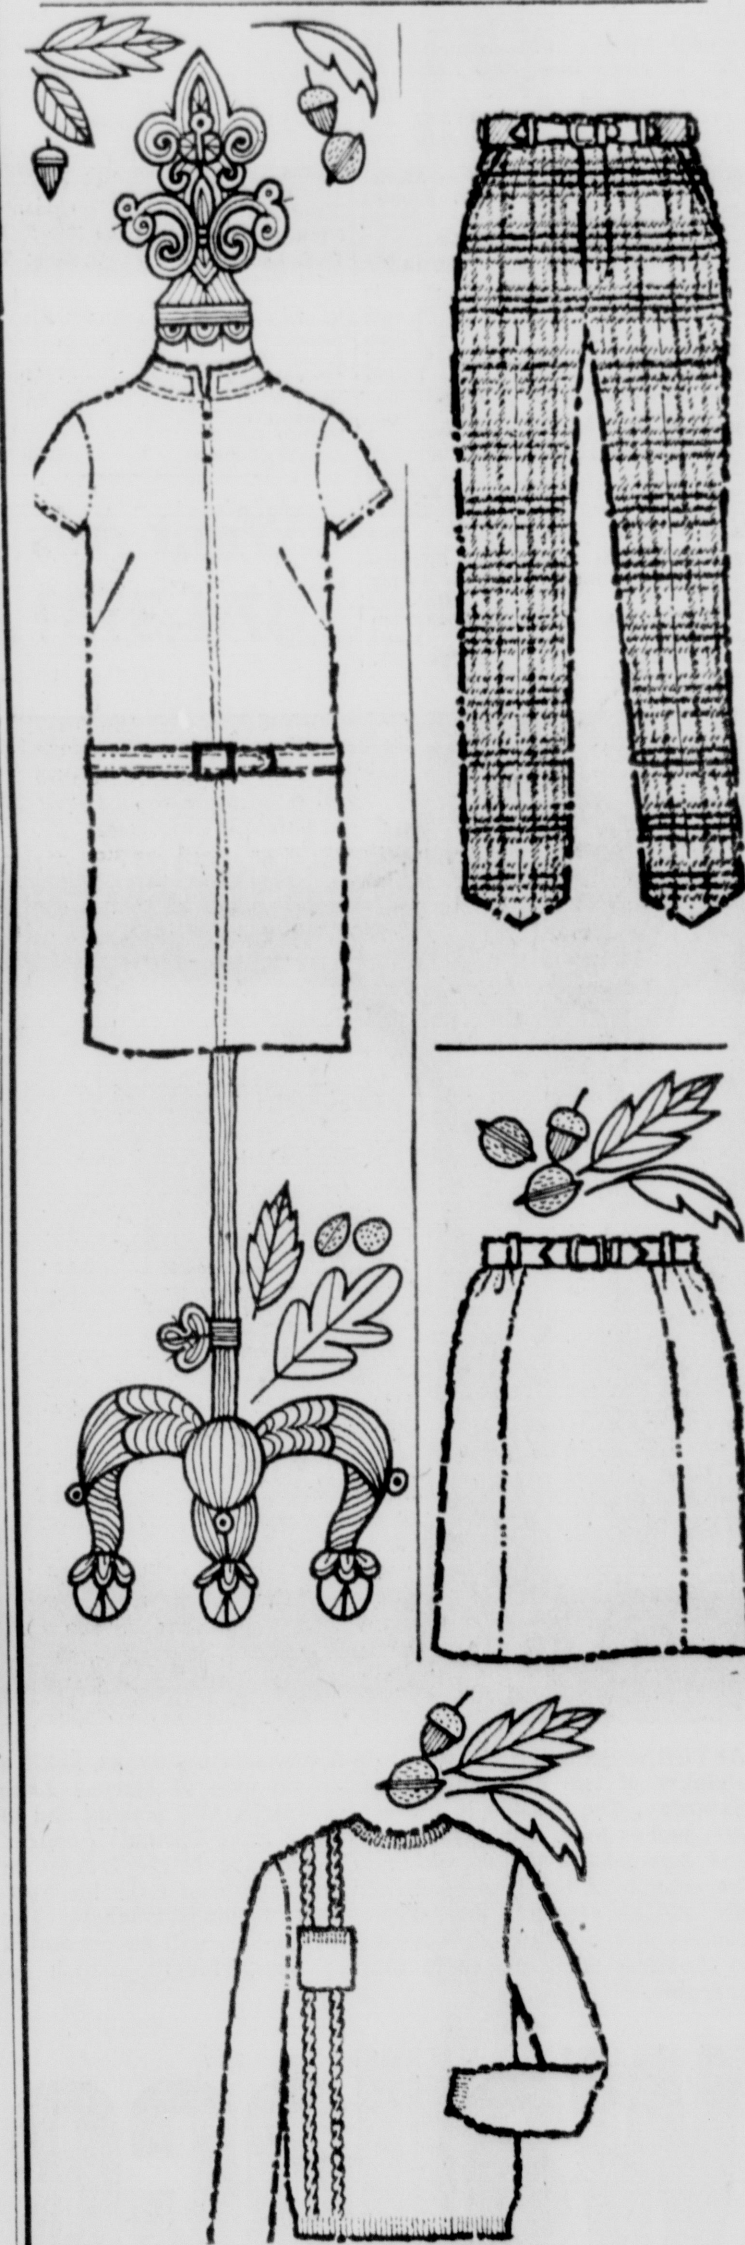

Minnesota downed Boston 5-1 on Jim Kaat's three-hitter and Cleveland beat California 4-2 in AL single games.

Rain washed out the Braves.

Circleville Stock Racer Wins Feature at Atomic

CHILLICOTHE — For the second time this season for both drivers, Bud Frazier of Chillicothe and Mike Wilson of Circleville, picked up the features at Atomic Speedway Saturday night.

In wreck-slowned races Frazier took the lead on the 15th lap of the 25-lap modified feature when Audie Swartz of Wheelerburg went to the back for stopping on a yellow flag and was forced out with an ailing car and Wilson went in front on the 16th lap of the 20 lap hobby stock main event when Larry Parker of Chillicothe spun out after leading from the start.

Earlier leaders in the modified feature were Dick Graves for the first three laps, Leo Saunders for four before spinning out and Al Nunnery of South Point only briefly at the restart before Swartz jumped in front.

Nunnery, who also was winner of the first heat, finished second and Spike Spears of Chillicothe, the consi winner, was third.

Ron Allen of Circleville was second in the hobby stocks feature and Don Downey of Jackson was third after winning the consi. George Branson of Chillicothe and Jerry Ruckery of Waverly were the hobby stocks heat winners.

Swartz was the winner over Frazier, Junior Smalley and Dick Diamond in the helmet dash for the four fastest cars and was runner-up to Frazier in the fast heat. Smalley had fast qualifying time of 16:09 but went out of the feature early.

In the Labor Day Championship, Audie Swartz won the feature for the super modifieds. He was followed across the line by Sam Erwin, Bobby Morgan and Bud Frazier in that order.

Joe Frazier had won the first heat, Sam Erwin was the second heat winner. Bob Morgan copped the helmet dash and Junior Smalley the consi.

Jerry Rucker won the feature race of the hobby stocks. Don Downey was second and George Branscom third.

The first heat was won by Larry Parker, the second by Bill Wampler and the consi by Chet Hackworth.

Ten Games Played in First Round of Softball Tourney

Ten games were on tap Monday for the opening round of the Circleville Slow Pitch Softball tourney at Ted Lewis Park.

The tournament drew teams from Columbus, Newark, Waverly, Chillicothe, Millersport, Athens and Circleville. First round is single elimination and all play after that is double elimination.

C. E. Wardell of Circleville topped city rival PPG, 16-1, as Rush, Roger McConnell, Chet lery Sr. and Woods poked two hits for the winners. B. Denver went two for three for PPG.

Wardell followed PPG out of the tournament with a 22-3 scrubbing by Newark. Newark blasted 26 hits and scored in every inning. Berry Wolfe and Don Fee again homered for the winners.

Pigeon Club Holds Young Bird Race

Circleville Pigeon Club held its first 100-mile race for young birds Sunday from Mayesville, Ky. There were 13 lofts entered with 200 birds competing.

Heager Blevins took first place with a speed of 1164.2796 yards per minute while the Iles Loft came in second with a speed of 1154.0666 yards per minute.

Homer Kuntz of Chillicothe was third with a speed of 1149.3548 yards per minute. Stan Crosby was fourth with a speed of 1141.8500 yards per minute.

The Iles Loft won the loft derby and Homer Huntz won nomination bird.

Missouri Wife Says "Truly A Blessing To Relieve Piles"

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Springfield, Mo. Mrs. H. Meyers of this city says: "Preparation H has helped me so much. I used to use another product. Then friends told me about Preparation H and it's truly been a blessing."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

How long will your

the phone tonight?

5 minutes? 10 minutes? 15? Will she find it in her heart to let you call a few friends? Will she give in and let you make some business calls?

If all this sounds slightly familiar, then welcome to the club, pal. Because at one time or another, most parents have had to face the problem of a kid who seems to live on the phone. But, luckily, the problem is an easy one to solve.

Simply get your kid a phone.* With her very own number. In her (his if you have a boy) very own room.

That way, you can use your phone anytime you want to. And she can use hers anytime she wants to.

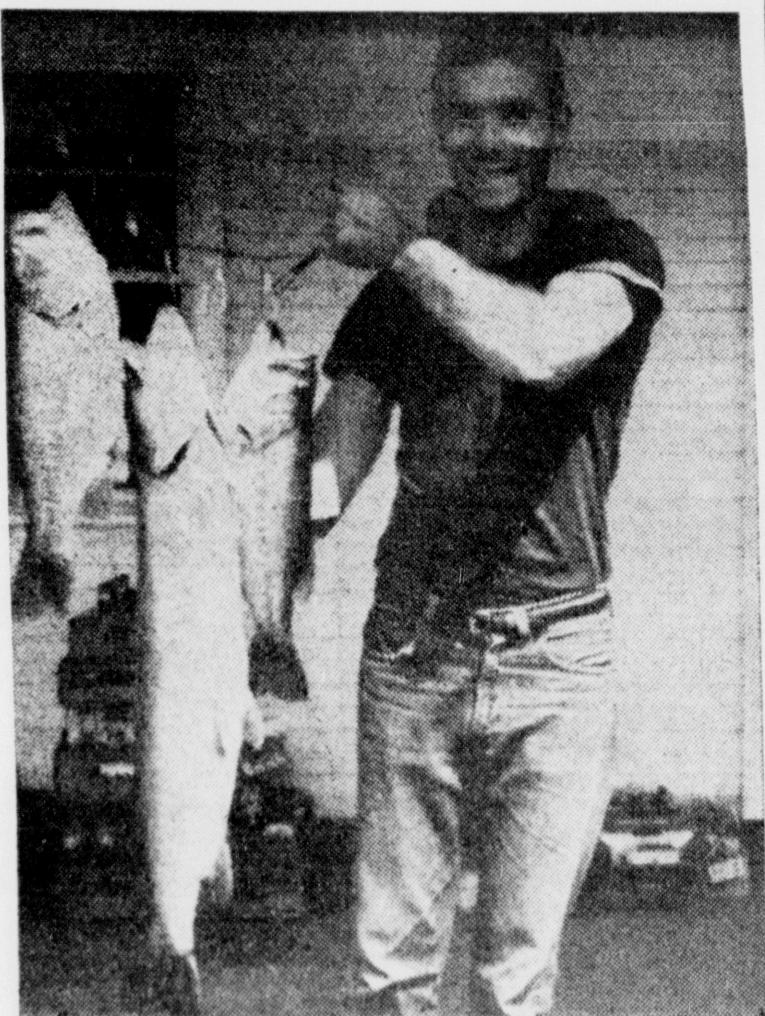

But best of all, you won't have to listen to your kids' infernal conversations. And your kids won't have to listen to yours.

AFTERNOON'S WORK — Harold Schmauch, Columbus, holds a stringer of two bass and a muskie he took at Hargus Lake Saturday. The muskie weighs 13 1/4 pounds and is 39 1/4 inches long. The two bass weighed in at 5 pounds 7 ounces and 3 pounds 12 ounces. Schmauch's muskie is the largest in the contest at the lake sponsored by Thompson Lakeside Supply and he also has the largest bass, 6 pounds 2 ounces. The contest will run through November. Trophies will be presented to the first three places in muskie, bass, bluegill, catfish and crappies.

Circleville Stock Racer Wins Feature at Atomic

CHILLICOTHE — For the second time this season for both drivers, Bud Frazier of Chillicothe and Mike Wilson of Circleville, picked up the features at Atomic Speedway Saturday night.

In wreck-slowed races Frazier took the lead on the 15th lap of the 25-lap modified feature when Audie Swartz of Wheelerburg went to the back for stopping on a yellow flag and was forced out with an ailing car and Wilson went in front on the 16th lap of the 20 lap hobby stock main event when Larry Parker of Chillicothe spun out after leading from the start.

Earlier leaders in the modified feature were Dick Graves for the first three laps, Leo Saunders for four before spinning out and Al Nunnery of South Point only briefly at the restart before Swartz jumped in front.

Mets nightcap with the clubs tied 2-2 in the sixth and the Giants and Cubs were deadlocked 1-1 after nine when darkness forced a halt.

Freehan's homer off Diego Segui, the sixth Oakland pitcher in the nightcap earned the Tigers a split after the A's had tied the game on Danny Cater's run-scoring single in the eighth. Cater's hit came off Roy Face, the veteran relief specialist acquired by the Tigers last Saturday from Pittsburgh.

Nash struck out 10 Tigers in the first game, fanning Willie Horton four times in a row. Carter drove in two runs with a fifth inning single off loser Mickey Lolich.

Frank Robinson drilled his sudden death homer off Lindy McDaniel, who entered the game after the Yanks rallied for three runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-0 deficit. Bobby Cox' two-run single capped the comeback. Merv Rettenmund hit a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Tigers End Scrimmages On 2-0 Win

Circleville came out of an impressive scrimmage session Saturday without serious injuries, according to Backfield Coach Dick Fisher.

Several players didn't see action as the Tigers scored two touchdowns while holding Logan scoreless. Ed Wells, Will Bost and Randy Greer are still recuperating from various sores. Jim Samuel stubbed his toe during the band preview Friday and missed action.

Coach Fisher reported that the defense did a good job of containing a big Logan team and the offense looked more consistent. The passing game is steadily improving.

Mike Henderson scored one Tiger TD on a 50-yard sprint. The second score came when the reserves were in.

AROUND the South Central Ohio League Saturday, Washington battled West Jefferson and won, three scores to one; Lincoln Heights of Cincinnati swamped Hillsboro, four to one; Xenia thumped Wilmington, two to one; Miami Trace edged Westfall, five to four and Greenfield topped Waverly.

Circleville opens its grid campaign Friday with an away tilt at Grove City. Next Friday is the home opener against county rival Teays Valley.

Ten Games Played in First Round of Softball Tourney

Ten games were on tap Monday for the opening round of the Circleville Slow Pitch Softball tourney at Ted Lewis Park.

The tournament drew teams from Columbus, Newark, Waverly, Chillicothe, Millersport, Athens and Circleville. First round is single elimination and all play after that is double elimination.

C. E. Wardell of Circleville topped city rival PPG, 16-1, as Rush, Roger McConnell, Chet lery Sr. and Woods poked two hits for the winners. B. Denver went two for three for PPG.

Wardell followed PPG out of the tournament with a 22-3 scrubbing by Newark. Newark blasted 25 hits and scored in every inning. Berry Wolfe and Don Fee again homered for the winners.

Pigeon Club Holds Young Bird Race

Circleville Pigeon Club held its first 100-mile race for young birds Sunday from Mayesville, Ky. There were 13 lofts entered with 200 birds competing.

Heager Blevins took first place with a speed of 1164.2796 yards per minute while the Les Loft came in second with a speed of 1154.0666 yards per minute.

Homer Kuntz of Chillicothe was third with a speed of 1149.3548 yards per minute. Stan Crosby was fourth with a speed of 1141.8500 yards per minute.

The Les Loft won the loft derby and Homer Huntz won nomination bird.

Missouri Wife Says "Truly A Blessing To Relieve Piles"

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Springfield, Mo. Mrs. H. Meyers of this city says: "Preparation H has helped me so much. I used to use another product. Then friends told me about Preparation H and it's truly been a blessing."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Newark went on to edge Columbus Push Overs, 14-10. Don Fee again homered for Newark as did teammate Jim Hoy. D. Stone and D. Alexander homered for the losers.

J. Harper went five for five to lead Remy's Chrysler-Plymouth of Waverly over Bliss College of Columbus, 20-3. K. Willson and J. Guilkey went three for four for the winners to aid in a 26-hit attack.

The Waverly team then rolled over Meade of Chillicothe, 14-8. L. Graves and K. Willson homered for the winners.

Circleville Merchants were bopped from the tourney by Local 423 from Columbus, 5-2. John Lewis homered with the bases loaded in the sixth inning to give Local 423 the win.

Tom Jones Insurance of Millersport topped Central Ohio Welding of Columbus, 15-4, and lost to C. F. M. East, Columbus, 19-5. In the first tilt: Walker had a pair of round trippers and Delong had one. Sumeninger and Clapsaddle homered for the Welders.

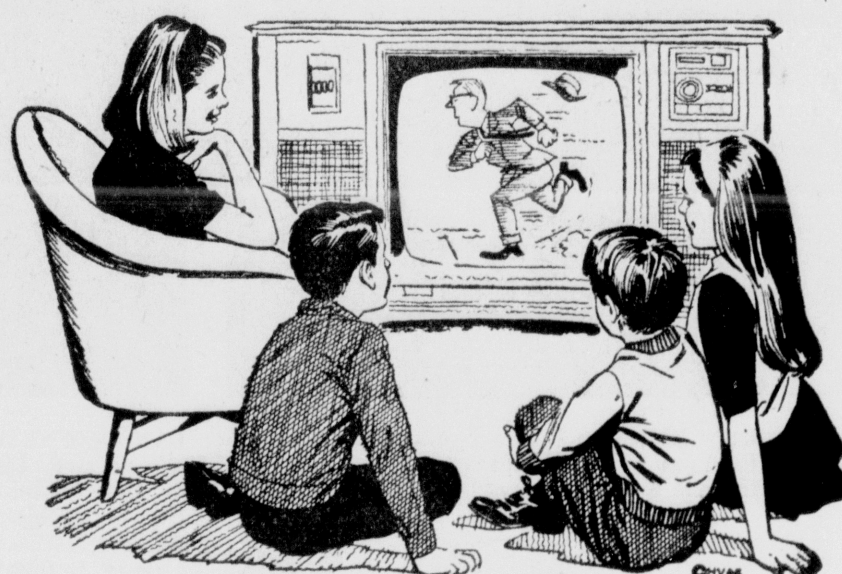

In the second tilt, Walker again homered and Johnson homered for Tom Jones. Just tice, Hart and Jude all homered for the winners.

BLACK Label of Athens shut out Owens-Illinois of Circleville, 20-0, on a four hitter. Frank Mace doubled for O-I. Handley had four hits and Linscott and Mulligan three each for Black Label.

Francis Reist of Chillicothe closed out the Monday action with a 9-1 win over Black Label. Collins tripled for the winners and Kearns went two for two for Black Label.

Next tournament play will be 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the park.

How long will your kid let you borrow
the phone tonight?

5 minutes? 10 minutes? 15? Will she find it in her heart to let you call a few friends? Will she give in and let you make some business calls?

If all this sounds slightly familiar, then welcome to the club, pal. Because at one time or another, most parents have had to face the problem of a kid who seems to live on the phone. But, luckily, the problem is an easy one to solve.

Simply get your kid a phone.* With her very own number. In her (his if you have a boy) very own room.

That way, you can use your phone anytime you want to. And she can use hers anytime she wants to.

But best of all, you won't have to listen to your kids' internal conversations. And your kids won't have to listen to yours.

*To find out if you can get another private phone in your home, call your General Telephone business office. General Telephone

A four-panel comic strip titled "UP ESCALATOR".

- Panel 1: A man in a suit runs up a set of stairs labeled "UP ESCALATOR". Sound effects above him are "B-BANG", "THUD", and "BUMP".
- Panel 2: The man stands at the bottom of the stairs, pressing a button on a wall. Sound effects above him are "THUMP", "WAMP", and "THUD".
- Panel 3: The man has fallen down the stairs and is lying face down on the ground. A sign above him says "UP ESCALATOR".
- Panel 4: The man is crawling back up the stairs. A speech bubble from him says, "LUCKY YOU CAME BY! I'VE BEEN TRYING TO GET DOWN THAT THING FOR TEN MINUTES!".

RUPTURE TRUSS FITTER COMING

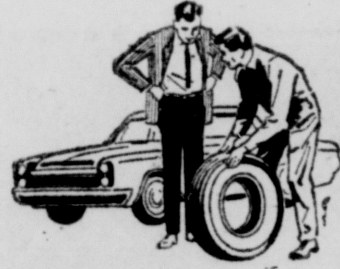

Give yourself comfort and relief without an old-fashioned type TRUSS. If your rupture comes out when your truss is off, then you must be wearing the wrong kind. See the NEW revolutionary hernia control plan. It is a marvelous invention for rupture treatment. Prevents rupture from becoming larger. Holds like your hand. Will control hernia. Use when bathing, get rid of rupture trouble as quickly as possible. Has NO BELTS to cut—NO STRAPS to bind, which may cause numbness of legs. No bulbs to push in and enlarge. You owe it to yourself to try the Sutherland. For many types of rupture or hernia. If you desire results which you have never thought possible; then do not overlook this opportunity. Come in on date below. Free consultation.

If man years are 70, then why not use this plan. You can very well. See W. L. Powell, at the Tagg's Motel, Highway 23 South, on Thursday, September 5th, 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. My 25th year of fittings. Come in to see me. No obligation.

Grange Royalty Crowned by State Master

The highlight of the first Pickaway County Prince and Princess Pageant was the coronation of the winners by the Ohio State Grange Master and Mrs. Byron Frederick.

The pageant was held Saturday evening at the Scioto Valley Grange Hall where over 40 grangers and non-grangers from four counties witnessed the presentation of the Pickaway County Grange Youth organization.

The program began with the singing of the theme song "When You Wish Upon a Star" by the master of ceremonies, Paul Dunkle.

Following the welcome and the opening song, the Chaplain Fern Lutz conducted the devotions.

THE winners of the contest were then escorted to their thrones on a stage decorated in yellow and blue, with a white background. An arrangement of blue lights cast a mystical glow on the setting which was adorned with flower arrangements furnished by Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie.

During the evening talks were given by the visitors and officers of the Granges represented. The talks were interspersed with talent by the youth of Pickaway County Granges. Among them was the clarinet solo by Patricia Schleich which won her second place honors in the State Grange Talent Contest held at the Ohio State Fair.

The State Grange Master Byron Frederick then placed the crown on the head of the 1968 Pickaway County Grange Princess, Debbie Archer of Nebraska Grange, who scored highest on the written examination for the title.

The 1968 Prince Doyle Miller of Saltcreek Valley Grange was crowned by Mrs. Frederick who is the Ohio State Junior Grange Matron. Following the coronation, the state officers gave words of welcome to all in attendance.

Flowers for the winners were presented by Star Grange, gifts were donated by Saltcreek Valley and Nebraska Granges, and trophies were given by the county youth director.

Following the winners walk down the runway, the pageant closed by the entire group singing "Beautiful Ohio."

REFRESHMENTS were then served by Scioto Valley Grange assisted by the youth group.

Taking part in the evening activity were: Alisa Judy and Carolyn Lutz, crown bearers Scott and Dale Lutz, trophy bearers; Wilma Judy and Edward Crites, escorts; Bill Rihl, pianist, and Barbara McKenzie and Joan Dawson, sash bearers.

The prince and princess will attend the Ohio State Grange convention in Dayton later this year where they will compete in the state finals.

Viet War Enters New Lull; B52s Continue Bombing

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers kept up their protective attacks on the approaches to Saigon, but otherwise the Vietnam war appeared today to have slipped into another of its periodic lulls.

The eight-engine bombers struck eight times Monday night and today at suspected enemy positions west and northwest of Saigon, mostly 25 to 35 miles away from the capital.

B52 raids have concentrated increasingly closer to Saigon in past days, indicating enemy units have slipped or fought their way through the outermost source said it appeared that end-defense lines set up to protect the capital. But a senior U.S.

Crashes

Monday when their car was struck by a locomotive near Bowling Green, and a Lima youth died near his home when his car stalled on a rail crossing.

The weekend victims included:

Sunday: Judy Hannah, 12, Cridersville, Auglaize County, was killed when her bicycle was hit by a car on Ohio 47 near Hardin, Shelby County.

William S. Miller, 43, Piqua, struck by a car and killed as he walked along Ohio 235 near Indian Lake in Logan County.

Charles Nelson, 35, Jersey City, N. J., was killed when his car crashed off the Ohio Turnpike at a high speed. The accident occurred in Mahoning County about 20 miles from the Pennsylvania line.

David Midecki, 18, Euclid, died after his sports car hit a median curb and flipped on Cleveland's East Shoreway, pinning Midecki under the car.

Terrence S. Costello, 31, Sharon, Pa., died when his car went out of control on U.S. 62 near Hubbard and plunged into a creek.

Ronnie Nolan, 5, Cincinnati, hit by a car and killed on Ohio 132 near Lindale.

Monday: Kenneth R. Lauhran, 22, Holland, died in a one-car crash on Toledo's West Side.

John R. Convey, 35, and Sophie Convey, 59, both of Wantagh, N. Y., were killed when their auto was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train 13 miles east of Bowling Green.

Denver Keels, 46, Oak Hill, Jackson County, died when he lost control of his car. It hit a guard rail near his home.

Robert P. Centeno, 17, Lima, died at a Penn Central crossing northwest of Lima, when his car stalled. Two passengers leaped from the car seconds before it was hit by a locomotive.

Alfred Ziff, 75, Columbus, was struck by a car on a freeway ramp near the Ohio State Fair in Columbus.

Charles C. Whims, 84, Columbus, was trying to cross a street on Columbus's West Side when he was hit by a car.

Marie Masi, 25, Campbell, died in a two-car collision at the intersection of two highways in Ashtabula County.

Gary Parker, 15, Cincinnati, was fatally injured in a one-car crash in Hamilton County.

Jaycees To Hear Aviation Director

Norman Crabtree, director of the Ohio Aviation Dept., will be the main speaker for the Thursday evening dinner meeting of the Circleville Jaycees.

Crabtree, who has been heading up the county airport projects in the state, feels that by 1970 almost every county will have airport facilities. He will show pictures and convey to the club how the other airports in the state and this immediate area (Washington C. H. - Waverly-Lancaster) were built.

He has won many awards for his work in the aviation field and has been proclaimed by the Federal Aviation Administration as one of the best men in the field.

The Jaycees dinner meeting will start at 7:15 at the Wardell Party Home on Route 22.

source said it appeared enemy units were not ready for a full-scale ground assault on Saigon within the next few days.

A terrorist in the capital killed two Vietnamese and wounded eight with a grenade today in front of the U.S. AID headquarters. Hundreds of Americans were at work in the big concrete building in one of Saigon's busiest sections. Preliminary reports indicated that the terrorist escaped.

Viet Cong forces killed another 20 civilians, wounded 50 and burned down 85 houses in a heavy mortar attack and ground assault on Long Thanh, a district town 20 miles east of Saigon. The town's defense force of 100 militiamen and 40 policemen reported one of their men killed and eight wounded, while enemy casualties were not known.

Another 16 civilians were killed and 12 were wounded when a bus triggered a Viet Cong land mine near Phan Thiet, a provincial capital 100 miles northeast of Saigon.

Some observers thought the enemy had begun its long-expected third offensive when it shattered a two-month lull in the war on Aug. 18 with fierce attacks in Tay Ninh Province along the northwest approaches to Saigon. The fighting spread to other areas, and the enemy radio announced last week that an offensive was under way.

But the U.S. Command refused to characterize the action as the third major enemy offensive of the war, even after the first week of fierce fighting when 7,500 enemy troops were reported killed by allied forces.

Enemy forces gradually have gone back to shelling and terrorist attacks less costly to them in terms of casualties—and have launched no significant ground attacks in the last four days. However, allied forces searching for the enemy have touched off some fighting.

Grange Royalty Crowned by State Master

The highlight of the first Pickaway County Prince and Princess Pageant was the coronation of the winners by the Ohio State Grange Master and Mrs. Byron Frederick.

The pageant was held Saturday evening at the Scioto Valley Grange Hall where over 40 grangers and non-grangers from four counties witnessed the presentation of the Pickaway County Grange Youth organization.

The program began with the singing of the theme song "When You Wish Upon a Star" by the master of ceremonies, Paul Dunkle.

Following the welcome and the opening song, the Chaplain Fern Lutz conducted the devotions.

THE winners of the contest were then escorted to their thrones on a stage decorated in yellow and blue, with a white background. An arrangement of blue lights cast a mystical glow on the setting which was adorned with flower arrangements furnished by Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie.

During the evening talks were given by the visitors and officers of the Granges represented. The talks were interspersed with talent by the youth of Pickaway County Granges. Among them was the clarinet solo by Patricia Schleich which won her second place honors in the State Grange Talent Contest held at the Ohio State Fair.

The State Grange Master Byron Frederick then placed the crown on the head of the 1968 Pickaway County Grange Princess, Debbie Archer of Nebraska Grange, who scored highest on the written examination for the title.

The 1968 Prince Doyle Miller of Salt Creek Valley Grange was crowned by Mrs. Frederick who is the Ohio State Junior Grange Matron. Following the coronation, the state officers gave words of welcome to all in attendance.

Flowers for the winners were presented by Star Grange, gifts were donated by Salt Creek Valley and Nebraska Granges, and trophies were given by the county youth director.

Following the winners walk down the runway, the pageant closed by the entire group singing "Beautiful Ohio."

REFRESHMENTS were then served by Scioto Valley Grange assisted by the youth group.

Taking part in the evening activity were: Alisa Judy and Carolyn Lutz, crown bearers; Scott and Dale Lutz, trophy bearers; Wilma Judy and Edward Crites, escorts; Bill Rihl, pianist; and Barbara McKenzie and Joan Dawson, sash bearers.

The prince and princess will attend the Ohio State Grange convention in Dayton later this year where they will compete in the state finals.

Viet War Enters New Lull; B52s Continue Bombing

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers kept up their protective attacks on the approaches to Saigon, but otherwise the Vietnam war appeared today to have slipped into another of its periodic lulls.

The eight-engine bombers struck eight times Monday night and today at suspected enemy positions west and northwest of Saigon, mostly 25 to 35 miles away from the capital.

B52 raids have concentrated increasingly closer to Saigon in past days, indicating enemy units have slipped or fought their way through the outermost source said it appeared that defense lines set up to protect the capital. But a senior U.S.

Jaycees To Hear Aviation Director

Norman Crabtree, director of the Ohio Aviation Dept., will be the main speaker for the Thursday evening dinner meeting of the Circleville Jaycees.

Crabtree, who has been heading up the county airport projects in the state, feels that by 1970 almost every county will have airport facilities. He will show pictures and convey to the club how the other airports in the state and this immediate area (Washington C. H. Waverly-Lancaster) were built.

He has won many awards for his work in the aviation field and has been proclaimed by the Federal Aviation Administration as one of the best men in the field.

The Jaycees dinner meeting will start at 7:15 at the Wardell Party Home on Route 22.

CCA Executive To Speak at Meet

"A Solution for Pollution" will be the subject discussed at the Thursday dinner meeting of the Industrial Management Club of Ross County in Chillicothe.

Speaker will be Robert J. Katovich, division general manager of the Pioneer Paper Stock Division of Container Corporation of America.

Katovich will discuss the responsibility which industry, government, and the individual citizen share for maintaining a healthy environment. His remarks will include a review of the scope of the problem of disposal of liquid, gaseous, and solid waste — a subject very much in the news, and one which is rapidly assuming the proportions of a national problem. Suggested solutions for the problem will be included in the discussion.

Toledo Firemen Transfer Chemicals
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Firemen worked through the night transferring a highly explosive chemical from an overturned railroad tank car to trucks.

The railroad car, containing 17,000 gallons of vinyl acetate, went off the tracks of the Detroit-Toledo Shoreline Railroad Monday afternoon as workers were coupling cars in north Toledo.

Fire department officials said it would take several more hours today to complete the transfer job.
